Ward 6 race picks up steam as Lattanzi 'sets the record straight' with response

By Seth Daniel

The Ward 6 City Council race continues to become further entangled in barbs this week after an accusation of sign meddling last week, this time with Candidate Al Lattanzi saying his opponent, Councilor Michael McLaughlin, has failed to run a clean and positive campaign.

Lattanzi, in an op-ed in the paper, said he and McLaughlin agreed at the outset of the campaign to run on the issues, to keep things positive, and not go negative. However, this week Lattanzi said McLaughlin is not following through.

"I have spent the entire summer on the streets, knocking on thousands of doors while listening to your concerns," Lattanzi wrote in an op-ed. "My opponent has done the same. However, instead of talking about the issues that matter and his record, or lack thereof, he has chosen to talk negatively about my family, my business, and my character. He has even gone so far as chastising my supporters and removing my campaign signs... The behavior exhibited by my opponent is erratic, hostile, threatening and is simply unacceptable for someone

Report shows residential property taxes in Everett are second lowest in the region

Staff Report

Mayor Carlo DeMaria is pleased to announce that the City of Everett has been ranked second only to Chelsea as having the lowest single family residential tax bill in the Greater Boston region, according to a fiscal 2019 property tax report from the City of Boston Assessing Department.

Mayor DeMaria stated, "I am happy to report that as a result of conservative budgetary management and responsible fiscal forecasting, we are able to provide some relief to help residential homeowners stay in Everett and invest in their community."

Although residential property values continue to grow, the City has been able to dramatically reduce the tax burden on homeowners as compared to the other 22 communities in the Greater Boston Region. By utilizing all of the Encore Community Mitigation Funding and implementing a 25 percent residential tax exemption, the mayor has fulfilled a commitment to utilize gaming revenue to provide tax relief.

The mayor has also committed that 100 percent of future casino revenue will Crimson Tide premiere running back sophomore Jaden Clerveaux (20) finds a seam to run through as Malden's Brandon McMahon (44) and Kahli Hardmond (14) try step up to fill the gap. Malden and Everett have lined up against one another for more than 100 years, except last year when Malden opted to forfeit the game for player safety. With the Greater Boston League re-assembled, Everett once again faced Malden on Friday night, Oct. 11, and came away with a convincing, 36-6, win. See Page 7 for story and more photos.

Inspired in school, muralist Angulo takes to the streets to beautify Everett

By Seth Daniel

It came down to a decision between basketball at Everett High, or taking a serious step towards art – and in a system run by former Coach John Dibiaso, there was no half-way efforts.

So, Kevin Angulo, now 25, made the tough decision to walk away from basketball his senior year and pursue art. It was a decision that is still tough for him to think about, but one that he knows was the right decision.

Now, after having completed three years of studies in the Museum of Fine Arts School at Tufts, Angulo has started sharing his talents with the community he grew up in. His form of sharing comes in colorful murals – most recently on the corner of Coburn and Gladstone Terraces.

There, he has created a nearly 100-yard, colorful landscape mural of Rio de Janeiro in Brazil.

"I am the youngest of eight siblings and come

The 600

Development team sees promise at the crown of Broadway

By Seth Daniel

A development team that includes Ricky Beliveau and John Tocco is looking to stake their claim atop the crown of Broadway, proposing an 85-unit building with restaurant and retail in the 600th block of the thoroughfare – an area that hadn't changed much in years until recently.

"I think this is a perfect location because it's a new area for Everett," said Beliveau. "It's up from the casino and just above the downtown area. It's a half-block from the Blue Bike station, it has the bus access, the Encore bus and other amenities. What we really love is that we're at the top of the hill here. The way we designed the building creates a large number of units that will look down on the city. Plus the shared roof deck on top will have outstanding views of Boston."

Said Tocco, "We want to do something that the community will really appreciate. Our goal is this is a tremendous success for the community and we are invited into more opportunities to do work here."

Tocco – who was formerly the community liaison for Encore Boston Harbor – is now working with

A rendering of the proposed building as submitted to the Planning Board this week – a project now known as The 600.

Exceptional care for an exceptional life: Three decades of service

What’s it like to have the same job, working in the same place, for three decades? According to Dr. Jim Pedulla, Medical Director of Neighborhood PACE, it’s pretty great. “This is very rewarding work that I do. And I love the people I work with. I’ve worked with fantastic people for 30 years. Working in tandem with the PACE team every day, improving the lives of those we care for—that’s what drives our trains. It’s what we do.”

Neighborhood PACE is an innovative model of care that helps our older neighbors live at home in our community for as long as possible. After joining the East Boston Neighborhood Health Center in 1998, Dr. Pedulla helped launch Neighborhood PACE in 1990 as a geriatrician and has since served as the program’s medical director. In this role, he is responsible for enabling older adults to live in the place they call home while receiving the medical care they need.

“My 30 years as a physician and medical director with PACE have passed quickly, but I remain confident today as then that this is the very best model for providing health and social services to frail persons and those with multiple complex medical conditions,” says Dr. Pedulla. “The PACE model enables me—or the nurses, practitioners, dietician, or therapists—to spend far more time with our patients than in other settings. We get to develop relationships with our participants, watch their successes, and assist with their choices. Any provider would agree that that’s what we find the most rewarding—the ability to focus the time necessary for each person, as opposed to the rapid appointment methods of seeing people throughout an office day.”

Neighborhood PACE’s team consists of geriatricians, nurse practitioners, behavioral health providers, rehabilitation providers, and other staff who work with participants and their families to ensure high-quality care. In this model, problems are detected more quickly and addressed more effectively than in a traditional practice. Dr. Pedulla notes: “For the medical provider in other settings, achieving this degree of synchrony for a patient in a busy ambulatory practice, working with multiple agencies, is nearly impossible.” In fact, PACE receives many referrals from providers struggling elsewhere!

Tina Smith, RN, is Director of Clinical Operations for Neighborhood PACE. “I’ve been here for a little over 29 years, working with Dr. Pedulla the whole time,” she said. “I have never met anyone with more compassion, dedication, or commitment to a program or mission. Neighborhood PACE would not be what it is today if not for Jim.”

Nancy Seigal, NP, has also worked alongside Dr. Pedulla for many years. “I haven’t ever worked with a medical professional who expresses such a degree of compassion—for not only participants and their families, but coworkers as well,” Nancy observed. “Jim Pedulla embodies the mission of PACE and has dedicated his professional practice to the betterment of our participants.”

Looking back over his career, Dr. Pedulla can be proud of what he and the PACE team have accomplished. “Much has changed since we began care for 30 participants at the Lyman School center in East Boston in 1990. We now care for over 600 people in multiple communities. We have embraced the progressive development of the electronic medical record, developed important new partnerships with housing entities, and tightened loops during care transitions with our nursing facilities and hospital partners. My enthusiasm for our future is as strong as ever!”

Poised to celebrate its 30th birthday, Neighborhood PACE is part of a national network of programs called the Program of All-Inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE). The PACE model of care evolved from the belief and experience that older adults with chronic care needs, and their families and caregivers, are better served by remaining in their homes and community whenever possible. To find out more, visit neighborhoodpace.org or call 617-568-6377.

PACE began as a demonstration project in the early 1970s in San Francisco. On Lok (Cantonese for “place of peace and happiness”) Senior Health Service coordinated many community-based services to help families in the Italian-Chinese North Beach neighborhoods care for aging family members—and avoid a nursing home placement. Ultimately this model of care for older adults was funded by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services and adopted in many other states.

EBNHC has been a vital part of the community for nearly 50 years. From the beginning, our services and development have been defined by the needs of East Boston and the communities we serve. Our mission is to provide easily accessible, affordable, appropriate, high-quality, personalized, coordinated primary care, for all who live and work in East Boston and the surrounding communities, without regard to age, income, insurance status, language, culture, or social circumstances.

Jalen Iles-Smith of Everett, Class of 2023

Following a sixth straight winning season, the Assumption College football team was picked second in the 2019 Northeast-10 Conference Preseason Poll. Last season, the Greyhounds finished fourth with a 6-4 record. The Greyhounds led the NE10 Conference in points per game (37.2), yards per game (415.9) and touchdowns (51). that holds an elected office. He cannot lie his way out of this one.”

McLaughlin categorically denies having removed signs from a property last July, and gave his account of the incident in last week’s Independent. His accuser, Rebecca Le, has said McLaughlin took down the signs in a fit of rage – that coming in a letter to Council President Rich Dell Isola and in an interview with the Independent. Le was expected to appear before the Council Tuesday night, after the paper’s deadlines, to discuss her allegation in a public forum.

McLaughlin told the Independent that there is a review going on and a defined process, and he looks forward to that playing out.

However, when it comes to the campaign, he said he blames the DeMaria Administration for the sudden change in the tenor of the campaign. Mayor DeMaria has been actively campaigning for Lattanzi, though that’s likely because Lattanzi formerly served as the mayor’s campaign chairman.

“As far as the campaign goes, I have respect and numerous times I have stated that I have respect for Al and Al is a fine individual,” said McLaughlin. “I have respect for his family and have had a good working relationship with (his wife) Dolores in the Mayor’s Office for as long as I can remember. For me, with three weeks to go before Election Day, the race has pivoted from a race between Al and myself to a race between myself and the DeMaria Administration... They are trying to silence a voice for the people of Everett... Al is a good guy and I still consider him to be a friend. I hope we can shake hands on Nov. 5 and move forward... It’s the furthest thing from the truth I would bad-mouth him, his family or his business.”

Lattanzi further elaborated the McLaughlin has been criticizing Lattanzi for how he conducts business as a vendor for the City of Everett. McLaughlin said that is not the case, but Lattanzi wrote that it is the case.

“My opponent and his supporters have attacked my character and business, implying that I’ve done something wrong in doing business with the City,” he wrote. “It’s not the first time my business and character have been attacked for political gain. I know that small businesses are the backbone of this community. If elected, I will work with the DeMaria Administration and the City Council to promote the use of more local vendors and support of small businesses.”

McLaughlin told the Independent that he actually supports Lattanzi doing business with the City, and would like to see his store and other Everett businesses contract with the City more often.

THE MEATLESS

REVOLUTION IS HERE

By now we’ve all seen the ads from Burger King for the plant-based burgers that the fast-food chain is offering to its customers.

For anyone who has not tried these “burgers,” we can assure you that you’re in for a surprise because they are delicious and taste just like the real thing.

Burger King’s meatless burger was developed in a partnership with Impossible Foods, which is one of the two companies (the other being Beyond Meat) that has brought the concept of what used to be known as a “veggie burger” to a whole new level.

Wall St., the ultimate (though not always correct) arbiter of the worth of new ideas, has given both companies high valuations in the belief that Americans will embrace these new foods and reduce their consumption of red meat.

We can only hope that will be true.

When Senator Ed Markey and Congresswoman Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez introduced their Green New Deal proposal, one of the stated goals was to reduce the the consumption of red meat by American consumers.

Not only would that benefit Americans’ health (because consumption of red meat is linked to a number of serious diseases, most notably cancer and heart disease), but it also would reduce one of the primary causes of man-made damage to the environment.

The production of meat by the so-called factory farms is a disaster for our environment, fouling our air, water, and land.

In addition, with the widespread use of antibiotics in these animals -- which in turn are ingested by us -- the potential for the development of bacteria that are antibiotic-resistant increases dramatically, potentially paving the way for a world-wide epidemic spread by drug-resistant bacterial bugs.

We applaud Burger King for introducing its plant-based burgers. With all of the the largest meat-producing food companies, Tyson, Hormel, Smithfield, Perdue, and Nestle, jumping on the bandwagon and offering plant-based products, it would seem that the meatless revolution at last has arrived.

GUEST OP-ED

Setting the record straight

He has even gone so far as chastising my supporters and allegedly removing my campaign signs. He denies such behavior and states that he was allegedly “begged” to remove the signs. If that is the case, why was I called to replace my signs? Why did this individual feel compelled to write a complaint to the Council President? The behavior exhibited by my opponent is erratic, hostile, threatening and is simply unacceptable for someone that holds an elected office.

Since 1950, my family has operated Everett Supply & True Value Hardware Store – the last independent hardware store in the city. My parents, Mary and Babe, taught me the value of hard work and how to run the business that I eventually took over. While other independent businesses folded over the decades, my honest and trustworthy persona, and my dedication to Everett ensured that my business kept its doors open, serving Everett residents and their hardware needs. My parents began doing business with the City of Everett as a local vendor in the late 1950s.

My opponent and his supporters have attacked my character and business, implying that I’ve done something wrong in doing business with the City. It’s not the first time my business and character have been attacked for political gain. I know that small businesses are the backbone of this community. If elected, I will work with the DeMaria Administration and the City Council to promote the use of more local vendors and support of small businesses. After all, shouldn’t the city support those that are rooted in Everett, pay taxes in Everett and provide jobs in Everett?

In fact, The Commonwealth of Massachusetts encourages municipalities to use local, small business vendors.

For my opponent to paint my campaign in a negative light is nothing but a mere distraction. A distraction from the fact that I am the only homeowner, business owner and property taxpayer in this race. Ward Six deserves honest, serious leadership. My record as an honest and trustworthy businessman in this community speaks for itself. You be the judge.

Al Lattanzi is a candidate for Ward 6 Councilor.

LETTER to the Editor

AN OPEN LETTER TO ROBERT SANTACROCE

Two weeks ago, I didn’t expect to open a local newspaper and find that that my employment status and qualifications as a paraprofessional would be central to your campaign for Ward 3 School Committee. As a candidate, one would hope you would have more to offer.

You are not the first to stigmatize my ability as a professional and I’m certain you will not be the last. Over the past six years in childcare, I have earned the respect of my peers and administrators, the praise of the parents I serve, and the admiration of the students I teach. I appreciate your passion and concern for the students and families of Everett as it seems to be something we both share.

I have worked so hard to build my own professional reputation, as my own person, while working within the Everett Public Schools. In response to your ad, I invited you to come and observe me at the Webster School Extension. I have not heard back from you and my offer still stands. This would give you prime opportunity to address your concerns regarding myself or my ability to perform my duties as a paraprofessional. My students and I would be happy to welcome you into our classroom.

If you join us, I will also share with you my letters of recommendation from peers, former teachers and current administrators along with my pay stub.

I look forward to hearing from you.

I want to continue to serve you as your representative on the School Committee at Large. I want to be here to take your phone calls and emails, to listen to your concerns, problems and suggestions.

Beliveau via his own company, A10 Associates. The property, which is actually two properties, contains a professional medical building and the house/office of Dr. Joseph Yee. Both properties, which are directly across from the Parlin School and the upcoming 18-unit development by Greg Antonelli, will be put together to form the footprint of the new building.

The 85-unit building looks to be a modestly-priced project, starting at around $2,000 per month and containing 75 percent studio and one-bedroom units. While they have 33 parking spaces, both said the project is geared towards a market that is trying to get rid of a car to save money – such as people working at Encore or in downtown Boston that want a quick commute by bus or bike.

The duo was slated to have their first public airing of the project on Tuesday night before the Planning Board, which came after Independent deadlines.

Beliveau, of Volnay

Capital, had been developing smaller properties, anywhere from 16-19 unit projects in South Boston, East Boston and Chelsea. Having known Tocco, he began to see the prospects in developing something in Everett, and recently the two found the Broadway property.

While Beliveau has 150 units currently under development, this would be the largest project the company has taken on, and it intends to be the most locally-focused as well.

One of the local angles is a proposed restaurant concept with the owner of The Square Deli. Using approximately 4,000 sq. ft. of the 8,000 sq. ft. of proposed retail, owner Chris Moreira – a trained chef – is looking to bring his deli business to the top of the hill, and also add a new restaurant concept.

“He’s very good at what he does, and with 85 units in the building, that gives him a built-in customer base,” said Tocco. “He’s committed to taking the feel of his deli to the space, and then using part of the space for a new restaurant concept. It will be a great addition to this part of Broadway.”

Still, the area is a bit of a pioneer’s territory when it comes to new development such as what they are proposing. Most of that area of Broadway – aside from McKinnon’s Market – is a sleepy area with lots of residential areas and very few businesses.

“We’re taking a chance on the restaurant,” said Tocco. “The mixed-use is a chance. Housing will work well here. However, a full-service restaurant here is a big risk. There isn’t a lot of businesses to draw people out for lunch or dinner. The other retail space is also a risk. I think it will be something everyone is very pleased with. However, there just isn’t enough activity here yet to draw people out, and that’s the risk.”

Beliveau said he was very impressed with the City’s approach to development, noting that the design standards handbook they had made the proposal much easier than in other locales. The design standard is a product of the Planning Board and the Planning Department that tells developers what the City would prefer in terms of materials and appearance for the various districts.

“The design standards really helped us in the initial design to create something the City preferred,” he said. “In many communities, it’s he said-she said. The fact they had a document explaining what they wanted, we found extremely helpful.”

If the development team gets approvals this fall, they said they could envision breaking ground in late spring of 2020.

Everett football pulls away from Malden

Lamothe scores 2 TDs in 36-6 victory

Special To The Independent

The Everett High School football team scored 30 points in the second half to earn a 36-6 victory over Malden in slippery conditions Friday at MacDonald Stadium.

The game was tied 6-6 at the half before Everett's rushing attack produced five unanswered touchdowns.

Samy Lamothe, a 5-foot-11-inch, 185-pound junior, led the way with touchdown runs of 4 and 5 yards. Junior quarterback Duke Doherty (14 yards) and senior Eli Auguste (10 yards) also rushed for touchdowns.

Sophomore defensive back Ismael Zamor returned an interception 14 yards for a touchdown.

Junior Tyrese Baptiste was Everett's leading rusher with seven carries for 87 yards and a two-point conversion. Auguste had two carries for 72 yards and one reception for seven yards. Jaden Clerveaux (7-50) and Clarence Jules (9-47) also made strong contributions to the Tide's potent ground game that generated 356 yards.

The Everett defense continued its outstanding play by holding Malden to 50 yards in total offense.

Everett raised its record to 5-1 while defeating Malden for the 28th time in the last 29 games.

TIDE NOTEBOOK

Head coach Theluxon Pierre's Tide have won five games in a row and are ranked No. 5 in both the Globe and Herald polls. Everett is fourth in the MIAA Division 1 North power ratings that determine the playoff pairings. Andover (3-2), who bested previously undefeated Methuen, 28-0, is fifth in the Division 1 North power ratings and could be the Tide's first-round playoff opponent.

Tyrese Baptiste has seven touchdowns and a 2-point conversion for 44 points. He is eighth among the point-scoring leaders in Division 1.

Everett hosts Somerville (1-4) Friday at 5 p.m. at Everett Memorial Stadium.

Since 1893, the Everett Crimson Tide and The Malden Golden Tornadoes have lined up against each other as one of the state's oldest high school football rivalries. With the exception of last season, where Malden did not suit up due to player safety concerns and way back in 1927 when they were unable to play, the games have always been a dogfight; now with the Greater Boston League re-assembled, fans were excited to see the two schools meet again on a soggy night in Malden where the Tide would prevail 36-6.

EHS SPORTS ROUNDUP

EHS boys soccer defeats Malden, 4-2

Captain Moses Herrera scored two goals to lead the Everett High boys soccer team to a 4-2 victory over Greater Boston League rival Malden this past Friday.

Teammates Erasmo DaSilva and Fransisko also reached the back of the Malden net.

The victory was preceded by a pair of losses for the Crimson Tide to St. John's Prep, 4-2, and Medford, 7-1.

"We managed to change things around on Friday in the Malden game," said EHS head coach Pedro Blas. "We played as a team and Moses, our captain, stepped up with two goals."

Blas and his crew host Charlestown this evening (Wednesday) under the lights at Everett stadium at 7:00. They will travel to Somerville next Monday.

EHS field hockey earns win, tie

The Everett High field

hockey team enjoyed a productive week, earning a victory and a tie in three contests.

The most dramatic encounter of the three-game span was a deadlock with Malden last Tuesday in which DJ Schovanec put home the tying tallying on a corner from Ashley Yebbha with about three minutes to play.

"We had great defense and great goalie play by Saria Velez," said EHS head coach Melissa O'Donnell.

On the following day, the Lady Crimson Tide went up against a strong Burlington team.

"Our girls battled hard, but we came up short," said O'Donnell. "Elizabeth Peach played a fantastic net for us in that game."

This past Friday O'Donnell's squad came through with a big win against a competitive Lawrence team by a score of 6-0.

Everett's Eli Auguste (2) slips the tackle of Malden's Eli Beato (51) and then comes face to face with Tornado defensive back Jamri Youman (4) in the early stages of the game.

Wet and wild conditions didn't dampen Everett quarterback Duke Doherty's spirits or his passing abilities as he attempted and completed some key hook-ups with his receivers.

Senior running back Clarence Jules (4) turns on the jets and rumbles up the sideline for a big gain as Malden's Jerry Mervil (1) and Kahli Hardmond (14) do their best to try and catch him.

Everett linebacker Rich Malloy (40) is the first to meet with Tornado return-man Jamari Youman (4), who attempts to make a football move and escape the tackle.

Encore numbers, revenues take a dip in September

By Seth Daniel

Total wagers at Encore Boston Harbor were down by nearly $100 million in September, and gross gaming revenues (GGRs) declined by about $3.5 million, in what was the first backward step for the casino since opening in July. The total wagers were at $298.15 million in September, which was down from the August high of $391.47 million. GGRs also decrease from $52.48 million in August to $48.95 million in September. That number, however, was still greater than the July number. One high point for Encore was the increase to slot machine GGRs, which had been very soft. It was the biggest number for slot GGRs since opening, registering $21.86 million in September. That came, also, with a bit of the tightening on the slots, going from a 94 percent payout in August to a 91 percent payout in September. That came at the expense, though, of the table game revenues, which had been red-hot since opening. In September, the table game numbers registered $27.09 million after having hit a high of $32.2 million in August. It was the lowest table game revenue number for a full month since opening. Encore paid out $12.2 million in state taxes in September, with a four-month total of $41.7 million going to the state in taxes since opening. The slowdown wasn't unique to Encore, as similar dips came in for numbers at the MGM Springfield property too. The total wager number there was down $10 million, from $187.5 million in August to $177.6 million in September. GGRs declined by almost $1 million in September there, as did slot and table game revenues.

EHS girls soccer drops close contests

The Everett High girls soccer team battled well, but came up short in a pair of contests this past week. In a 3-2 loss to Medford last Monday, the Lady Crimson Tide controlled play for much of the game, but were unable to finish many of their chances. "It was a well-fought game," said EHS head coach DeAnn Gallagher. "We dominated for what seemed to be the majority of the game, but we just got unlucky. The win was within reach. We just couldn't get a strong grip on it." Although Medford scored within the first four minutes of the contest, the Everett squad remained undaunted and battled with high intensity. The team's hard work paid off when sophomore Gitalia Boyce scored her first goal of the season to bring the game back to level just before the end of the half. "It was a well-deserved goal," said Gallagher. "Gitalia has had so many opportunities to score this season, but just can't seem to finish." The Everett girls continued to play with ferocity after the intermission. "We wanted this game more than anything, to prove our abilities against a good GBL team," noted Gallagher. After Everett had several scoring opportunities that could have given the Lady Crimson Tide the lead, they forged ahead when a corner-kick by captain Carolann Cardinale landed in the center of the box. was right where she should have been and was able to get a foot on the ball to tap it into the net to make it 2-1. However, Medford responded with a goal on a breakaway and then scored the game-winner for the 3-2 finale. "The girls came so close," noted Gallagher. "It was so heartbreaking to see them play so aggressively and so well, but to come up short." Two days later in a battle with Malden, another Greater Boston League rival, the Lady Crimson Tide fell by a score of 5-2. "We knew it was going to be a tough game right from the start, due to the torrential downpour and wind," said Gallagher, referring to last Wednesday's nor'easter. After Malden took a 2-0 lead, Everett continued to play tough despite the score and the cold weather, creating several opportunities to cut into the deficit. Their efforts paid off when Cardinale delivered a corner-kick that found senior Rosemary Bonilla at the back post for a one-touch into the back of the net to make it 2-1 with five minutes left in the first half. Malden scored again shortly after the intermission to regain a two goal lead, but Everett got back into it when Boyce and teammate Ashley Tejada battled fiercely for the ball just inside the Malden 18. Boyce won control and delivered a shot that beat the Malden goalie into the bottom left corner to make it a one goal game once again, 3-2. However, that would be as close as Everett would get on the day, as Malden found the net two more times for the 5-2 finale. "It's unfortunate that we had to play them in cold rain and hard winds," noted Gallagher, "We had tied them in our first meeting, but the weather didn't help us in the rematch." Gallgehr and her crew are scheduled to trek to Salem tomorrow (Thursday) and will host Cambridge on Saturday in a contest that will be highlighted by Senior Night festivities. They then will entertain Somerville on Monday.

be used to offset taxes as part of his long-term fiscal policy. This also includes utilizing the full $25 million in annual pilot (payment in lieu of taxes) payments with Encore and additional meals and room excise taxes to reduce the tax burden. This commitment has not come without controversy. Recently, the School Task Force released a report calling on the administration to use gaming revenue for operations and infrastructure, not for tax reduction, stating, "The distribution of the annual casino revenue for the City should be dedicated to on-going critical needs of the City in its provision of operational and capital services. Going forward, these funds should not be applied to reducing property owner's tax bills." However, Mayor DeMaria insists tax relief is affordable and achievable while continuing to make investments in the city. "Standard and Poor's has given us one of their highest ratings," he said. "Our operating surpluses, our very strong liquidity, our low overall net debt, and formal five year long-term capital projections show that we can meet our infrastructure needs, while also providing some relief to our taxpayers." Along with the current strong fiscal position, the city has committed to fully funding its future obligations. The annual appropriation for the retirement system is currently one of the highest in the Commonwealth and the City is on track to fully funding the system by 2030. The City will also continue to fund its other post-employment benefits such as health and life insurance, and will increase that appropriation once the retirement system is fully funded. The administration also expects a significant increase in Chapter 70 school funding based on the current state negotiations regarding a new school funding bill. In addition to the tax ranking, Everett's water and sewer rates are the eighth-lowest out of the 56 MWRA communities and the City does not impose trash fees.

CHA receives honor for Employee Wellness Program

Cambridge Health Alliance (CHA) is a 2019 WorkWell Massachusetts gold-level winner for exemplary work in worksite wellness promotion. The program is sponsored by the Worksite Wellness Council of Massachusetts (WW-CMA) - a not-for-profit membership organization dedicated to the advancement of worksite wellness programs. The award celebrates CHA's achievements in developing, implementing and participating in corporate health improvement and wellness programs.

CHA's employee wellness program supports the well-being of co-workers, patients and communities by fostering a health-conscious, supportive culture. The growth of the program has been steady over time providing access to a wide variety of programs that support movement, nutrition, self-care, and rest. Annual offerings have included on-site yoga classes, sleep education seminars, healthy beverage initiatives, discounts to programs at the Center for Mindfulness and Compassion and local fitness facilities, blue bikes, and on-site Community Subscription Agriculture programs. Additionally, the program hosts an internal walking challenge that promotes connection in movement and has close to 1,000 participants. Rebecca Toutant, wellness manager at CHA, attributes much of the program's success to its support from partners and department leaders, saying, "The program provides a hub for community and onsite tools and services to promote self-care, but it's the daily passion and support from wellness ambassadors across the alliance that creates community and excitement each day." CHA's Senior Vice President of Human Resources, Joy Curtis, and Chief Administrative Officer David Porell serve as Executive sponsors for the program.

This is CHA's fifth consecutive WorkWell Massachusetts award and second gold award from the organization. CHA has earned ten awards overall for workplace wellness. In 2014 and 2015, CHA earned a gold-level designation from the American Heart Association as a Fit-Friendly Worksite. In 2015 and 2016, CHA was named a Healthiest Employer by the Boston Business Journal. CHA also earned an award as one of the Nation's Best & Brightest in Wellness for 2016.

A SHORT STORY ABOUT A MOTORCYCLE.
AND A SUDDEN TURN.

When she was a young college student, Elisabeth Marra had a serious motorcycle accident that ultimately changed her life. Two years after the crash, her painful open fractures had failed to heal. Then she heard about a new and complex surgery pioneered by a surgeon who used a patient's own stem cells to concentrate the healing process. This time, her surgery and subsequent therapy were successful.

Elisabeth's experience caused her to re-direct her own career aspirations. Inspired by the medical professionals who helped her reclaim her active lifestyle, she changed her major to study physical therapy—a profession where her own experience could help other patients prevail through difficult recoveries.

We tell Elisabeth Marra's story here to illustrate two of the most profound messages we know. Don't give up, and remember to give back. If reading it inspires just one more person to achieve something special, then its telling here has been well worth while.
