The business of building Everett's future with smart growth

By Stephen Quigley

The full length Broadway, from the Malden line to the Charlestown line, is undergoing a surge in new construction unlike any in the city's history, with almost $3 billion in new development either under construction or already-completed.

The boom is transforming the city's main thoroughfare, with a multi-laycombination affordable housing, rental housing, and new commercial establishments. The multi-faceted projects also have provided the opportunity for thousands of best coach." Foppiano, 29, has risen to the No. 2 ranking in the U.S.A. women's lightweight division. "Hard work definitely pays off and it's taken a long time, but I knew we would get here eventually, though it's been a tough road."

As a result of her success in the ring and charismatic presence in the sport, Foppiano, whose nickname is "Hollywood", has been receiving some excellent marketing opportunities. She has signed on with Gordon Gronkowski's brand, VUE, which is a vitamin drink. She is also sponsored by Grown Fit-

Joe Lake is very pleased with his fighter's progress in the division.

"Shayna has performed admirably and met every challenge," said Lake. "She's won some tough fights, and this next bout will be a real test. We're training hard every day, and there is a lot of exciting stuff happening in the career of Shayna Foppia-

Primary election is set for Tuesday, Sept. 21

By Staff Report

Local voters will head to the polls this coming Tuesday, September 21, to select the candidates in five contested races who will advance to the final election in November.

The most-watched race will be the mayor's contest. where incumbent Mayor Carlo DeMaria is being challenged by two City Councilors, Ward 1 Councilor Fred Capone and Councilor-at-Large Gerly Adrien.

DeMaria, who has served as Mayor of Everett since 2008, has been campaigning almost non-stop as he seeks re-election to the corner office.

"I am grateful for the trust that the community has given me since I was elected mayor," said De-Maria. "I look forward to continuing to improve the quality of life for all Everett residents," he added.

Running against him is first-term City Councilor-at-Large Adrien Gerly, who has campaigned on a message of improving the quality of life in the city.

"As mayor, I will fully-fund our schools and youth programs, ensure our city government is transparent and accessible, expand affordable housing. and more," said Gerly in a statement this week. "Everett needs a bold leader and a powerful vision for our future."

Also challenging De-Maria is Ward 1 Councilor Fred Capone, who served on the former Common Council for Ward 6 for five consecutive terms from 1990-1999, but then did not seek re-election for a sixth term when his son was born in 1999.

"I felt my young family should be my priority at that time," said Capone. "Fourteen years later, I was elected to the new city council representing Ward 1 and am completing my fourth term. In total I have 18 years of municipal elected experience and 26 years as a local business owner."

City Council accepts 12 grants and donations

Staff Report

The City Council met on Monday night and accepted 12 grants and/ or donations made to the City of Everett from individuals, companies, and the state and federal gov-

The largest grant totaled $47,191,952 from two sources, one from the federal American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) for $13,884,521, and a second for $33,307,431 as a subaward from the state government.

The first grant originally had been made in March, but was based on a formula that discriminated against Everett and three other communities, Chelsea, Methuen, and Randolph.

Mayor Carlo DeMaria immediately realized that Everett's share of the federal grant was inaccurately computed given that wealthier communities, such as Newton for example, had received $65 million.

DeMaria, working with Senator Sal DiDomenico and Rep. Joseph McGonagle, talked to Governor Charlie Baker about fixing the miscalculation.

Baker promised to use some of the state's share of ARPA for an equitable adjustment and eventually gave the city an additional sum with a second grant for $33 million. In accepting the grant, Councilor of Ward 5 Rosa DiFlorio publicly acknowledged the work of DeMaria, DiDomenico, McGonagle, and Baker TeamCapone has been working very hard the entire campaign and is ready for Primary Day 9/21.

Tom Abruzzese announces his candidacy for reelection to the School Committee

Tom Abruzzese has announced his candidacy for School Committee. The following is his statement:

"I'm Tom Abruzzese, a candidate for reelection to the School Committee, representing Ward VI. I'm a lifelong Everett resident, a retired attorney for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, a longtime coach in Everett youth sports, and a grandfather of five wonderful kids, three of whom attend the Everett Public Schools.

Today, I'm asking you for your support to continue my hard work on the Everett School Committee. Over my many years serving our community, I've always been a strong advocate for our students, parents, teachers, school staff.

Anyone who knows me understands that I have no political ambitions beyond the School Committee. I have not spent years running for other political offices and I've always stated we must keep politics out of our work.

I'm proud to have led the School Committee as Chairman (2019-2020)

during a tumultuous time. Under my leadership, and with the support of my colleagues, we put the safety of our students and teachers first by taking quick action to address the serious allegations against the former superintendent of schools.

I was also Chairman of the Superintendent Search Committee and assembled a diverse cross-section of Everett residents to help lead the search for a new superintendent. We conducted a professional, open process. We spent many hours holding community meetings to listen to what parents, students, and teachers wanted in a new superintendent, and ultimately hired a highly credentialed superintendent, who is a recognized leader in English language-learning and is a former teacher herself. Under my leadership, we clearly turned a page and moved forward as a community.

In fact, the Everett School Committee won an award from the Massachusetts Association of School Committees for its excellence in following this process. Everett was the only district in the entire region to win such an honor- and the first time any Everett School Committee received this award.

I've always tried to encourage the dreams of all our students, regardless of income, background, or any other factor. We need to give students the resources they need to dream as big as possible and not let politics get in the way of moving our district forward. There's still plenty of work to be done - and Everett needs someone tough and courageous enough to do what's right.

I may be the last name on the ballot, but I'll be first for the Everett Public Schools."

future generations of residents to live, work, and raise their families.

"The strategic, transit oriented development that is underway in Everett demonstrates our focus on attracting modern commercial businesses that will bring higher paying job opportunities for our residents," said Mayor DeMaria. "The additional tax revenue that is generated by these new businesses will help Everett to continue to prevent our residential tax rate from increasing while maintaining and expanding investment in the city services that are important to our residents."

The star of these developments is the Encore Resort on the Charlestown line. With an investment of more than $2.6 billion, Wynn Casinos, from its opening day in June, 2019, has exceeded expectations.

The project was built on a former brownfield that had been yielding only $300,000 in taxes. Today, the project affords Everett residents easier access to the waterfront on an environmentally-pristine site, for which Encore pays more than $30 million in taxes and fees annually into the city coffers, an economic windfall that keeps property taxes low for homeowners.

The solid financial picture for the city in turn contributes to the strong real estate market for Everett property-owners and has earned the city a ranking among the Best Places in the Commonwealth to live and raise a family.

In addition to Encore, some of the other high-profile projects include:

St. Therese's Project

Construction on the former site of St. Therese's parish on Broadway is moving along quickly. The project will provide 77 affordable rental homes with supportive services for seniors offered by East Boston Neighborhood Health Center (EBNHC), as well as six townhomes designated for first-time buyers. The project is being built by The Neighborhood Developers (TND), have developed who many successful projects in Chelsea and Revere over the years. The completion date is scheduled for next year.

Pope John High School site

Situated right on the Malden line is the two-acre site of the former Pope John High School.

The school closed in 2018 after having been operated for more than 50 years by the Sisters of St. Joseph. The legal process is clearing its final hurdle with TND as the developer. A formal disposition agreement between the City and TND for the Pope John site is expected to be submitted to the City Council in the coming weeks.

A Request for Proposals was sent out in October, 2020. The conditions of the proposal reflect the input from the residents who attended the public hearings. The site will have 76 affordable units of housing for veterans and their families, as well as 62 units of affordable housing for senior citizens. There will be two buildings and the height will not exceed the height of the present buildings.

Artist rendering of the Pope John High School project.

DeMaria led the way to purchase the site from the Archdiocese of Boston in 2019. The project is expected to be completed in less than four years. "This is the mayor's vision and Pope John was his idea... It's not every day a City or Town in Massachusetts puts up its own money to buy a property and bid it for affordable housing," said former City Planner Tony Sousa.

Commenting on the proposal, DeMaria said, "What everyone in our community can agree upon is the need to find more affordable housing options for our residents. By thinking creatively about how we could put the Pope John site to best use, we have found a way to meet the most pressing need of creating more affordable units for our seniors who want to remain in Everett and also acknowledging our veterans for their service."

600 Broadway

The new, 85-unit development that will contain a locally-owned restaurant at the crest of the hill on Broadway, known as The 600, is moving along. The developer for the building is Volnay Capital. While the height had been a concern to some residents, the final approval of the project was given by the autonomous Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) with a 4-1 vote in February, 2020. The vote by the ZBA was taken after extensive public hearings that saw support from the community.

The lone dissenter on the ZBA, Commissioner Mike Dantone, said at the time that he felt the six-story height was too tall. However, the height is only three feet over what is allowed.

The rental units, though not officially designated as affordable, are expected to be below-market rate.

"Despite being 'market-rate units', they will be priced significantly lower than other buildings we've seen go up or are planned," said Steve Tocco of Volnay Capital. "We plan our market rate to be more affordable without the official designation."

Similar, below-market-rate projects on Shirley Ave. in Revere recently have been approved in that city. There will be 37 parking spaces provided in the project. The price tag for project building is expected to be $28 million

GET OUT TO VOTE ON PRIMARY DAY ON TUESDAY

The city's highly-anticipated primary election is set for this Tuesday, September 21.

Headlining the primary election will be the three-way battle for mayor among incumbent Mayor Carlo DeMaria, City Councilor-at-Large Gerly Adrien, and Ward 1 City Councilor Fred

Although the recent debate among the candidates revealed relatively few points of disagreement on the major issues facing our city, there are discernible differences in their leadership style, backgrounds, and experience. We urge all of our readers to read up on the candidates and to examine their various approaches to the problems facing our city in order to make an informed decision. The top two vote-getters will proceed to the final election in November. In addition to the mayor's race, there will be primary contests for City Council-at-Large, School Committee-at-Large, Ward 4 City Council, and Ward 6 School Committee. All voters should go to the Election Commission website in order to determine their polling location. We urge all of our readers to get out to vote in the primary election this coming Tuesday, September 21. Voting is the best way for every citizen in our community to make a difference.

AMERICA SINCE 9/11: ONE STEP FORWARD, MANY STEPS BACK Amidst the solemn ceremonies and remembrances this past weekend of the terrorist attack 20 years ago on 9/11, one thing is clear: America is far better protected from a similar act of terrorism than we were on 9/10/01.

To be sure, our higher level of protection has come at great cost, but we have had nothing close to a similar incident since that terrible day, unlike in other countries, especially France, where high-profile, coordinated attacks by known terrorist groups have killed dozens of innocent civilians.

But if we are to assess our country today vs. where we were 20 years ago, by almost every other measure our nation is worse off.

The 9/11 attack rightly spurred us to invade Afghanistan, from where Osama bin Laden was directing his terrorist organization. Our military took care of business in short order, destroying bin Laden's network. But our rapid and easy success led us to continue with our military occupation of Afghanistan for 20 years and undertake an invasion of Iraq, even though there was no connection between that country and 9/11.

Those two foolhardy, deceitful, and hubristic endeavors have had disastrous consequences that reverberate today.

In addition, newly-released documents have revealed that both wars essentially were nothing more than a money-grab both by special interest groups in this country and by corrupt government officials in those countries. The vast majority of the trillions of dollars we spent lined the pockets of corrupt individuals and groups both here and abroad.

If we examine our domestic situation since 9/11, drug overdose deaths in the U.S, which reached an all-time high of almost 90,000 in 2020, are six times greater today than they were in 2001. The simple arithmetic tells us that we presently are losing as many Americans to drug overdoses every 12 days as we lost

The average life-span of many American sub-groups, especially white males who are victims of the so-called deaths of despair, has decreased for the first time in more than a century, even without factoring in the COVID-19 pandemic.

Income inequality and the accumulation of obscene wealth by a small group of individuals already was a problem in 2001, but 20 years later, the unequal distribution of our national wealth into the hands of a few has accelerated many times over and continues unabated. Combined with the Supreme Court's 2010 decision in the Citizens United case, we are realizing that a democracy exists in name only when we have a stratification of wealth in our society that is the equivalent of a real-life Hunger

Natural disasters were few and far between prior to 2001, but nine of the 10 costliest hurricanes in our history have occurred since 2005. Thanks to our refusal to acknowledge climate change and to take the necessary steps both to reduce its impact and prepare for its consequences, our nation (and the world) routinely has been ravaged by an ever-accelerating number of natural disasters that have far exceeded the cost of what we might have spent to reduce greenhouse emissions, the source of atmospheric warming.

Facebook, Twitter, and similar platforms did not exist in 2001, but today they dominate our informational and political landscape and chiefly are responsible for the spread of misinformation and disinformation, from both domestic and foreign sources, that have undermined both our democracy and our ability to fight COVID-19.

As for COVID-19, today we are losing 3000 of our fellow citizens -- the equivalent of those we lost on 9/11 -- every two days because of COVID-19, which in the past 18 months has claimed the lives of more than 660,000 Americans.

We have the ability to fight back against COVID-19 -- masks and vaccines are our readily-available weapons -- but with tens of millions of Americans failing to join in the battle, spurred on by disinformation on social media and dishonest politicians such as Gov. Ron DeSantis of Florida, our tragic and horrific daily death toll is the best evidence that we are losing the war vs. COVID.

Lastly, if someone had predicted in 2001 that within 20 years, a right-wing mob, spurred on by social media, would have stormed the Capitol building in an attempt to stop the counting of the Electoral College -- in support of President Donald Trump -- the entire scenario would have been the stuff of a fictional satire in a humor magazine. (And probably would have been rejected for being outlandishly ridiculous.) To those of the younger generation for whom 9/11 is not even a memory, we sadly report that by almost every metric, America today is in far worse shape than when the twin towers tragically were attacked 20 years ago. So the question is this: If things have gotten this bad over the past 20 years, is there any hope that things will be better 20 years from now?

Helping our students realize their full potential

By Mayor Carlo DeMaria

It's a great honor and privilege to serve as your Mayor. I first ran for Mayor because Everett was stuck in its past without a vision for its future. I knew it was time to lead the community I love by bringing positive change and pride back to our neighborhoods. I'm proud of what we've accomplished during my time as your mayor.

Serving our families is one of my most important responsibilities as Mayor. A big piece of that is working to improve Everett's schools. To me this is a personal issue. I am a product of the Everett public schools, and I know the importance of a strong foundation that our schools can offer. I would not be where I am today without the foundation and opportunities Everett public school parent, I know the importance of modern facilities and a strong academic program in a system that cares about both students' educational and their social and emotional well-being. When we talk about education, most of the time we talk about money. Every year the City spends more on education due to the state formula, but we shouldn't just be asking, "How much do you need?" We also need to ask, "How is this going to help our students?" What I think parents want to know is how we are helping our kids to be successful.

I want what is best for our students as a parent and as Mayor. That is why I advocated for Ev-

Whether our children want to go to college, serve in the military, learn a trade, or go directly into the workforce, we will continue to help our students realize their full potential.

I respectfully ask for your vote in this year's city election and look forward to working with you to keep Everett moving forward.

Everett's residents are our greatest asset

By Fred Capone

Who we are as individuals, our opinions and perspectives are all influenced by life experiences. One of four boys, raised in a single parent household, I grew up in apartments. At one time, I shared a single bedroom with all my brothers. My mother was a strong role model, teaching us the value of hard work and the need to help one another. My childhood experiences provided me with incentive to work hard, educate myself, and strive for a better life. Today, I am grateful to be a father, a husband, to own my home and operate my own business – all here in Everett. Recognizing that we all need a helping hand during the course of our lives, I volunteer time and resources to many charitable causes. These experiences have forged who I am as a person. This is my story, no more or less important than any other. Each of us has a story and something to offer. Differences of opinion are inevitable, but each has merit and deserves respect.

There will always be significant issues facing a community. No matter how difficult, they are surmountable – especially when we work together. When we listen to one another, we learn from one another. By soliciting input, we get the benefit of different perspectives and experiences. Problem solving by group effort often produces the best overall result. Working together, we become a better, stronger, and more united community. Too often, city government makes decisions for you without your input. That's just

As your Mayor, I will ensure that our community fosters mutual respect, where everyone has a seat at the table and everyone's voice is heard. Your opinions will matter and your ideas will help make Everett a better place. Your input will revitalize community spirit and Everett pride. We can build a better and bolder Everett

By Gerly Adrien

Hi, my name is Gerly Adrien and I'm running to be your next Mayor of Everett. This is my hometown that I love, and know we have the potential to create opportunities for all of us.

People in our city have been feeling left out, underrepresented, and unacknowledged since before the pandemic, and it's only gotten worse. People are losing their jobs and cannot afford the rising rents and mortgages. Seniors and small business owners do not feel supported by their city. Homelessness and mental health issues are on the rise. The lines have never been longer for people needing food and shelter, yet developers are still making record profits while not paying their fair share to contribute to our commu-

I know, first hand, what that struggle feels like. I know how exhausting it is to work three jobs to make ends meet. I know the anxiety of facing eviction from my home. I know what it means to have to depend on others to get by. I hear many people say "City Hall is not for us." We all deserve a government that is dedicated to helping all residents succeed and improve their quality of life. That's why, I promise to continue fighting for you, for our city, and for our community.

Everett has raised me since the age of 3. I'm the daughter of two Haitian immigrants who came to Everett to pursue the American Dream, and worked multiple jobs to buy their first home in this city to create a better life for our family. I proudly attended Catholic schools and am proud of my Christian faith. I attended Bentley University for my undergraduate and received my MBA from Boston University. I have worked in corporate, non-profit and healthcare sectors. I am a small business owner with my husband, David Lindsey. As your city councilor at large, I love serving people and ensuring our budgets invest directly in our residents. In this race, I'm fighting for the power

Everett needs a bold leader and a powerful vision for our future. Now's the time to elect a mayor who will work with residents to: • Create equal opportunities for

LETTER to the Editor

DEMARIA DELIVERS

To the Editor,

Everett's Preliminary Election is right around the corner and I'm writing about why Carlo DeMaria deserves to be elected to another term. Mayor De-Maria's record of delivering for Everett reaches far. From establishing the city's capital improvement plan to developing innovative means of transportation, DeMaria delivers. From bringing in Encore Boston Harbor, the largest private investment in the history of the Commonwealth, to renovating every major park and playground in the city, DeMaria delivers. From being a statewide model of how to effectively test and vaccinate residents during a global pandemic, Putting 14 years of accomplishments aside, DeMaria's leadership throughout the COVID-19 pandemic alone should earn him another term.

DeMaria delivers.

Paying close attention to the situation that was developing in other countries, DeMaria was one of the first in our state to make the tough call to close city buildings and schools. The Mayor and his dedicated administration became a statewide model on how to effectively test and vaccinate residents at the levels Everett was able to. Mayor DeMaria was also vocal and instrumental in getting our educators eligible to receive COVID-19 vaccines, ensuring a safe return to in-person learning.

When it came to keeping our residents safe during the pandemic, Mayor De-Maria was relentless in ensuring every household in the city received a mask and ample resources to stay healthy and fed. The Mayor converted the city's senior center into a fully operational food pantry which served over 1000

residents weekly and has distributed over 2 million pounds of food. Today, the city still delivers over 500

daily meals to our senior citizens. Concerned about a tax revenue shortfall during the pandemic, the Mayor advocated for and received over $3.1 million in additional CARES Act funding. When Everett got shortchanged by an antiquated funding formula, DeMaria fought for and received an additional $33 million in ARPA funding after the federal government failed to provide for our city.

The bottom line is, when it comes to Everett, Mayor Carlo DeMaria delivers. It's easy to criticize those doing the job from the sidelines, but one thing we've yet to hear is what those challenging the Mayor would do differently. Tough times bring out the best in people. Carlo DeMaria is a time-tested leader. He is fair, compassionate and the leader Everett needs. Please join me in voting for Carlo on

Remembering the local victims of the Sept. 11, 2001 attacks 20 years later

Twenty years ago on Sept. 10, 2001, 2,996 people went to sleep not knowing the horrors the next day would bring.

Among them, 246 people went to sleep in preparation for their morning flights, 2,606 people went to sleep in preparation for work in the morning, 343 firefighters went to sleep in preparation for their morning shift, 60 police officers went to sleep in preparation for morning patrol and eight paramedics went to sleep in preparation for the morning shift of saving lives.

None of these saw past 10 a.m. Sept. 11, 2001.

It has been twenty years since the worst terrorist attack on US soil that changed the world forever and forced many of us to enjoy the breaths we take today before we go to sleep in preparation for tomorrow. Since the fateful day we've made an effort to kiss the ones we love, snuggle a little tighter, and never take one second of life for granted.

Among the nearly 3,000 souls that lost their lives 20 years ago in New York, Washington DC and Pennsylvania, were 206 Massachusetts residents of all ages, backgrounds and cultures that were cut down far too soon by a senseless act of violence that continues to shock the world.

Over the weekend the historic news footage of the day is just as real, just as horrifying and just as sorrowful as they were 20 years ago.

BLO returns with Mascagni's one-act classic; production moves to open-air Leader Bank Pavilion

Boston Lyric Opera (BLO) opens its new season October 1, at 7:30 p.m. and October 3, 3 p.m. with the company's first production of "Cavalleria Rusticana," composer Pietro Mascagni's one-act verismotale of love, betrayal and death in a small Sicilian village. In a change from its previously announced plans, and to ensure the safest possible performances for audience members, artists, staff and backstage workers, BLO's "Cavalleria" will open at the Leader Bank Pavilion in Boston's Seaport District. The Pavilion's openair structure allows BLO to produce large-scale live performances, with full live orchestra and chorus; the venue's larger capacity means BLO will have two performances instead of the previously announced four. BLO Music Director and Conductor David Angus will lead BLO's Orchestra and Chorus. Giselle Ty, who served as Assistant Director on BLO's 2016 production of "Werther," returns as stage director, replacing previously announced stage director Sarna Lapine. In reflecting on BLO's return to full performances, Acting Stanford Calderwood General and Artistic Director Bradley Vernatter saluted not only the resilience of the company's artists, staff, board and supporters, but also a shared belief in the power of music and storytelling.

"We're aiming to make 'Cavalleria' a thrilling return to live opera with full musical forces," Vernatter says. "The work required to pull off a production of this scale is monumental; it requires an accomplished team and a supportive community. I've been proud that BLO has kept artists employed through our digital projects and Street Stage performances during the roughest days of the pandemic. But it's especially rewarding to provide so many opportunities for artists and production personnel to join us for our first full-length opera, with a complete orchestra and chorus for a live audience, since the pandemic began." Vernatter also nounced the company will implement COVID safety protocols that align with other area performing arts organizations returning this fall and its own Health Task Force for Opera Artists, the high-profile panel of health-care professionals formed last year to provide medical knowledge and protocol guidance. BLO patrons attending "Cavalleria" at the Leader Bank Pavilion are required to show either proof of full vaccination, a negative PCR test

taken within 72 hours of the performance, or an antigen test taken within the previous 24 hours. Face masks are required for all patrons except when eating and drinking.

CASTING

The full cast for BLO's "Cavalleria Rusticana" in-

Soprano Michelle Johnson, known for a powerful voice and commanding dramatic presence -- and an alumna of New England Conservatory and the Boston University (BU) Opera Institute -- will sing the role of Santuzza;

Tenor Adam Diegel, who has received international critical acclaim for his powerful performance of Cavaradossi in Tosca at Glimmerglass Opera, will sing Turiddu.

Mezzo-soprano Nina Yoshida Nelsen, a singer equally at home on opera and symphonic stages who has performed world premieres at Houston Grand Opera and Seattle Opera, and a Boston University graduate with a Bachelor's in violin performance and a Master's in Music (Opera), returns to Boston to sings

Chilean-American baritone Javier Arrey holds a Congressional Medal of Honor from the Chilean government both for his career and his work bringing opera to people without access to live performances. A veteran of opera productions and concerts alike, Arrey performs here as Al-

Grammy-nominated soprano Chelsea Basler, who has enjoyed a strong relationship with the company since debuting as an Emerging Artist in 2014 most recently voiced the ethereal Madeline in BLO's operabox.tv production of "The Fall of the House of Usher" for BLO's groundbreaking operabox.tv streaming service earlier this year, sings Lola.

Cast changes have occurred since BLO announced "Cavalleria" in May: Michelle Johnson replaces J'Nai Bridges; Javier Arrey replaces Alfred by Giovanni Targioni-Tozzetti and Guido Menasci, "Cavalleria Rusticana" tells a story of four lovers that centers on a returning soldier who finds his fiancée has married a different man. "Cavalleria" is loved for its passionate story and classic score, whose swooning "Intermezzo" will be familiar to audiences, having been heard on numerous cinematic soundtracks. Young soldier Turiddu learns upon his return home that his betrothed, Lola, has married another man while he was away. Seeking revenge, he seduces Santuzza, who suspects him of having an affair with Lola when he disappears after their time together. She in turn takes her own revenge, telling Lola's husband Alfio that his wife had been unfaithful with Turiddu. Seeing his rage, Santuzza immediately regrets the revelation. But it's too late; Alfio challenges Turiddu to a duel and Turiddu accepts, asking his mother Lucia to care for Santuzza if he should not return. The unsurprising news of Turiddu's death nevertheless shakes his mother, his once-betrothed, and his lover to their cores. They respectively weep, collapse in the arms of others, and

"Cavalleria" will be sung in Italian, with English surtitles. The approximate run time of this performance is 70 minutes, with no intermission.

Everett Crimson Tide beats Xaverian, 21-19, in overtime

By Cary Shuman

In a matchup of two of the highest-ranked high school football teams in Massachusetts, Everett High defeated Xaverian, 21-19, in overtime Friday night at the Hawk Bowl in Westwood.

After Xaverian struck first in overtime with a touchdown to take a 19-13 lead, Ish Zamor carried the ball to the Hawks' 3-yard line. Cam Mohamed, operating out of the wildcat, empty formation, rushed for the touchdown. On the two-pointer, head coach Rob DiLoreto called Mohamed's number again, and the speedy running back took a similar route to paydirt for the game-winning two-point conversion.

DiLoreto said the blocking on Everett's three running plays in overtime was outstanding. David Macharia did an excellent job as the pulling guard on Mohamed's successive rushes. Also drawing praise from DiLoreto were right guard Jayden Biggi, right tackle Hector Guevara, tight end Marcus Scott, center Nick Raymond, left tackle Joe Murillo, and wingback Richie Molloy.

"They created a nice down-block wall and we led the guard through," said DiLoreto. "And Cam made two great cutbacks."

Also excelling with a huge play in overtime was Jaylen Murphy, who made the key tackle on Xaverian's running back to deny the Hawks the two-point conversion.

"That was a huge stop by Jaylen," said DiLoreto. "He made a tremendous play to disrupt his blocking and tackle their running back. It allowed us to win it in overtime, as opposed to tying it."

Zamor was brilliant on both sides of the ball. He caught a 59-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Karmarri Ellerbee in the first half and had a key interception deep in Everett territory in the second half

"Ish is the epitome of a student-athlete and a leader," said DiLoreto. "He made a minimum of a half-dozen huge plays in the game in all three phases, offense, defense, and special teams." Ellerbee, who was impressive in his first start at quarterback, also connected with Moses Seide for a 79-yard touchdown in the second half. After making the catch, Seide fumbled the football, but scooped it up and raced the rest of the way to the end zone for the touchdown. Moses is the younger brother of former Everett standout

"Our quarterback (Ellerbee) showed a lot of poise and made some big throws for us," said DiLoreto.

Isaac Seide.

Xaverian put two drives together and rallied for 10 points in the fourth quarter to tie the game at 13-13.

"But our kids responded well in overtime, stayed true to themselves, and executed one more play than Xaverian and that was enough to win," said DiLoreto. "This was a good Week 1 program win, and it was a fun night of football."

Everett hosts Somerville Friday at 6 p.m. at Everett Veterans Memorial Stadium.

Area residents to participate in Boston Marathon Jimmy Fund Walk Your Way

Three residents from Everett will choose their own route on October 3 for the annual Boston Marathon® Jimmy Fund Walk: Your Way presented by Hyundai. Participants are encouraged to "Walk Your Way" from wherever they are most comfortable—whether that be from their neighborhood, local park, favorite trail, or even a treadmill in their own home. Marlene Escobar, Claire Kelly, and Stephanie Lafontaine, along with thousands of other walkers, will participate in virtual programming during the Walk that aims to recreate the most inspiring elements of Walk day. The event has raised more than $150 million for Dana-Farber Cancer Institute in its 30+ year history.

Walk Heroes are matched with Jimmy Fund Walk teams to give participants an opportunity to connect with patients.

Everett resident Stephanie Lafontaine is a Walk Hero for the Boston Marathon Jimmy Fund Walk and will help inspire walkers as they partake in this year's virtual event. Images and stories of Walk Heroes will be accessible to inspire walkers. Stephanie was diagnosed with inflammatory breast cancer. Stephanie walks on Team and is matched IBC with Team IBC as well.

"Thanks to my amazing care team at Dana-Farber, and especially the Inflammatory Breast Cancer team, I was able to get through 19 months of treatment and continue following my passion for travel, SCUBA diving, and underwater photography," Stephanie writes.

"While we can't see everyone in person this year, we are excited for the virtual program to give participants the opportunity to support breakthroughs in cancer care and research at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute in their own way," said Zack Blackburn, director of the Boston Marathon Jimmy Fund Walk. "Together, from a safe distance, we will take critical strides in the journey to fifth, and Matth Telson finished in seventh.

"We had a good first meet," said EHS head coach Brendan Hahesy. "It was a strong first showing that hopefully we can build on throughout the season."

Hahesy and his crew are scheduled to run today (Wednesday) at GBL rival Chelsea on the latter's home course at Admiral's Hill and then will host Malden next Wednesday with a meet at 7 Acre Park.

FIELD HOCKEY TEAM DEADLOCKS MALDEN, 1-1

The Everett High field hockey team opened its season last week, dueling Greater Boston League archrival Malden to a 1-1 draw

Omar Marshall scored the goal for coach Melissa O'Donnell's Crimson Tide squad, with Celeste Fuccillo, Robert Fuccillo, and Dante Masucci contributing with assists off a penalty corner.

"We had many of our players playing in their first varsity game," said O'Donnell. "I thought we played well for our first game of the season. We hustled, we played aggressively, and we just needed to clean up a little bit, but I like the direction our team is heading in. "

Although Everett came up short in its next contest against non-league rival St. Mary's of Lynn on Monday at the Manning Bowl in Lynn, O'Donnell was pleased with the performance of many of her players.

"We had strong efforts from Jessica Colman, Juliana Edwards, Omar Marshall, Dante Masucci, Robert Fuccillo, Celeste Fuccillo, Melissa Lopes, Kayley Rossi, Ella Hickey, Jules Curran, Stephany de Sousa, and Sarai Velez," said O'Donnell.

The Crimson Tide will play at non-league foe Peabody this Friday and at Revere next Wednesday.

The EHS junior varsity squad earned its first win of the season at Malden thanks to a goal by Reliegh Kenney.

"Our junior varsity team also has a lot of new players," noted O'Donnell. "They played extremely well and I was very proud of them. Coach Emily Korb has spent a lot of time teaching them the game and it showed that they are listening and getting it."

EHS GIRLS SOCCER PLAYS WELL IN OPENER

Although the Everett High girls soccer team came up on the short end of a 3-1 decision in its season-opener last week, new EHS head coach Sheryl Steeves was encouraged by her team's performance.

Layla Betancur-Cardona reached the back of the Revere net to record the first goal of the season for the Lady Crimson Tide and EHS goalkeeper Mariana Madrigal Orrego turned in a superb performance.

"Mariana made a lot of great saves to keep us in the game," lauded Steeves.

"We had a tough game against a strong Revere opponent for our season-opener, but the girls played much better and we showed lots of improvement," Steeves added. "Although the game didn't end in our favor, we will keep working hard and improving."

Steeves and her crew face a busy stretch of five games in 10 days. They were scheduled to take on Medford this past Monday in a make-up of last Thursday's washout and to host Malden yesterday (Tuesday). They will make the short trek to Chelsea tomorrow (Thursday), entertain Lynn Classical next Tuesday, and then play at Lynn English next Wednesday.

BOYS SOCCER WINS, TIES IN GBL OPENERS

Coach Pedro Blas and his Everett High boys soccer team opened their season on a strong note, defeating defending Greater Boston League champion Revere, 3-2, in the season-opener last Tuesday and then deadlocking GBL rival Medford, 1-1, last Friday.

Blas and his crew took on East Boston in a non-league encounter on Saturday and were scheduled to play at Malden yesterday (Tuesday). They will host archrival Chelsea tomorrow (Thursday) at 7 Acre Park and travel to Lynn Classical next Tues-

WARD 3 CELEBRITY BARTENDING EVENT AT STEWART'S PUB

School Committee Chair Frank Parker, City Councillor Richard Dell Isola, City Councilor Anthony DiPerro, and City Councilor Mike Marchese hosted a Ward 3 Celebrity Bartending event Sunday at Stewart's Pub on Elm Street.

The group raised funds to offset some of the expenses for the Everett High School Marching Band that has been invited to perform at the 80th commemoration event of Pearl Harbor in Hawaii in December.

In the previous three years, approximately $8,000 in proceeds went to the Devens School.

Parker, 61, a 1978 graduate of Everett High, is in his final term in office on the Everett School Committee. He will not be seeking re-election.

"This is part of the Frank Parker farewell tour," jested Parker, who served 20 years on the School Committee and 10 years on the Everett Common Council. "This event is our day as elected officials from Ward 3 and neighbors to work in unity and put politics aside and raise money for Everett High students."

Guests at the fundraiser, Justine Mancini and Phil Mancini.

Enjoying the event are Jacob Betourney, John Mackey, and Mike Matarazzo.

Tom and Mary Fiorentino enjoy lunch at the fundraiser.
