City Council approves DeMaria's request for funds for street safety

By Stephen Quigley

The Everett City Council agreed with Mayor concerns. Carlo DeMaria to address the issue of excessive speeding on the city's streets.

Last week, the administration of Mayor Carlo DeMaria put forth a request to the Everett City Council to allocate $1.5M in Capital Improvement funds to address speeding on neighborhood streets.

$1.3M of the funds are allocated for the installation of up to 15 raised crosswalks and intersections around the city in areas that have been documented to have speeding

Additionally, $100,000 is allocated for up to 20 removable speed bumps, and an additional $100,000 for speed read-back signage around the city. DeMaria said the city will look to implement these projects in the spring and summer.

Jay Monty from the City Transportation Department told the councillors of the details of the spending that was being sought by DeMaria.

Monty noted that for raised crosswalks, the problems always lie in period, there were more the roadways. Councillor John Hanlon noted that "the pitch of the road is important" to prevent water from pooling. Ward 1 Councillor Fred Capone said that he "liked a steep incline on the raised crosswalks, because if they are too flat, they are ineffective." Ward 3 Councillor Anthony DiPierro told of a speeding incident on Fuller St. where a car was clocked going 98 miles per hour. He also mentioned that in a 20-day the drainage of water on than 60,000 enforceable violations that could have

School Committee hears of efforts to quell disturbances among students at EHS

"We are making headway, but there is still a way to go," Superintendent of Schools Priya Tahiliani told School Committee members regarding the measures that school officials are taking to stem the recent increase in incidents of fighting at Everett High School.

Tahiliani, speaking at Monday night's meeting of the School Committee, even went so far to say that school officials could be looking at prosecuting those students responsible for filming and then posting the fights on social media platforms.

Tahiliani, who temporarily has moved her office to the high school to have a more hands-on approach to the problem, outlined some of the measures being taken by school officials, including having a full-time staff to record a students' attendance during the entire day; having students review the student handbook; filling vacant positions; and stressing the responsibility of students who record and then post videos on social media.

The committee backed the superintendent's actions, acknowledging that there is a problem at the high school. However, the members agreed that once the misinformation that is circulating on social media is corrected, parents will feel much better about the situation.

"As a parent with a daughter in the Everett Public Schools, I understand the concerns fellow parents have about recent incidents at the high school," said Mayor DeMaria. "It's important for families to know that these issues are being taken seriously by the School Department and the School Resource Officers assigned by the Everett Police Department to the high school. Progress has already been made on a series of measures and more work is underway to prevent further incidents,' the Mayor continued. "The School Department has committed to sharing information with parents about the efforts underway to keep our students safe and help address parents' concerns. I look forward to working with the Superintendent and my colleagues on the School Committee to find additional ways to support the social and emotional learning needs of all our students to help them transition back into the classroom environment and the impacts they have felt from the pan-

JC Clerveaux scores five touchdowns in 37-11 victory over Revere High

By Cary Shuman

Everett senior running back JC Clerveaux put on a show Friday night in Revere, scoring five touchdowns as the Crimson Tide football team defeated Revere, 37-11, at Harry Della Russo Stadium.

Clerveaux rushed for four touchdowns, caught a 65-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Karmarri Ellerbe, and scored on a two-point conversion in a spectacular display of versatility, reminiscent of some of the great power backs in the Everett program's history.

Everett head coach DiLoreto lauded Clerveaux's dominating performance.

"JC had an unbelievable night," said DiLoreto. "He had about 300 total yards of offense and I'm so happy for him."

Clerveaux's TD reception may have been his best moment as he caught the pass and then made a spin move to immediately elude the Revere defensive back before sprinting to the end zone.

"One of JC's best athletic qualities is his balance," said DiLoreto. "He has tremendous balance, and because he's such a powerful runner between the tackles, his ability to make cuts and show his balance sometimes gets overlooked. Scoring five touchdowns is a tremendous night, and he really didn't have many touches. He had three touchdowns of 50-yards plus."

DiDomenico urges passage of right to counsel legislation

Senator Sal DiDomenico testified before the Joint Committee on Housing in support of legislation he has championed in Massachusetts Senate for several sessions: An Act promoting housing stability and homelessness prevention in Massachusetts, also known as the Right to Counsel Bill. DiDomenico's Right to Counsel bill, S.874, would make legal representation in eviction proceedings a right under Massachusetts state law. Currently, roughly 14% of renters in the Commonwealth are behind on their rent payments, and hundreds more eviction cases are being filed each week. Unfortunately, eviction proceedings disproportionately impact tenants with the lowest-income, especially immigrant families and the elderly, simply because they are unable to afford legal representation. This bill would provide legal representation for low-income tenants and owner-occupants landlords of two and three family homes in eviction proceedings.

In 2020, at the start of the pandemic, Senator DiDomenico filed similar emergency legislation to launch a Right To Council Pilot program to provide legal representation for tenants fac-

COVID-related evictions. Governor Baker incorporated key elements of DiDomenico's Bill into the state's Eviction Diversion Plan, now called the COVID Eviction Legal Help Project (CEL-HP). This emergency pilot program has had an overwhelming positive outcome.

Since its implementation in January 2021, CHELP has assisted approximately 7,000 dividuals (including 2,300 children) and positively resolved 90% of cases. Of those 90% of cases, 70% sulted in the preservation of the tenancy, and 20% of cases were negotiated to afford the tenant(s) more time to find replacement housing. In just nine months, CELHP has proven the undeniable need and extraordinary benefit of granting a comprehensive right to counsel program in the Commonwealth. Unfortunately, the existing CEL-HP program is only temporary.

During his testimony, Senator DiDomenico highlighted the benefits of his permanent right to counsel bill. "Even where tenant cases are ultimately unsuccessful, the presence of council can assist when negotiating things like payment, extensions of time to vacate, finding alternative housing, or different lease terms that satisfy both landlords and tenants." Citing a 2020 Boston Bar Association report, DiDomenico pointed out that "the monetary benefits of representing eligible beneficiaries in eviction and foreclosure proceedings, far outweighs the costs of providing those services." The report estimated legal costs at about $9.49 million and the potential savings at over $25 million. This legislation is imperative to keeping the Commonwealth's most vulnerable of tenants and families-renters from becoming unhoused, homeless, and displaced.

This legislation will prove to be vital for low-income renters in Massachusetts as pandemics effect on housing continues to take its toll. "This bill is timely and more important than ever." DiDomenico stated, "This bill levels the playing field." Backed by a coalition of over 200 organizations the bill has garnered unilateral support among tenant, homeowner, and landlord advocacy groups alike. The bill is currently pending before the Joint Committee on Housing where it awaits a favorable report.

cil for passing this important piece of legislation," said DeMaria.

The Everett Independent • Wednesday, October 20, 2021

The representative from National Grid got an earful from the several councillors at their meeting. The request to excavate from the power pole to the house at 76-78 Union Street through the sidewalk had councilors speaking about rodents and the conditions for backfilling of the trench once the conduits are laid.

Ward 5 Councillor Rosa DiFlorio noted that the city has a rodent problem and this digging could cause the rodents to move into other neighborhoods. Councilor Michael Mc-Laughlin noted that "the contractor knows the rodent control law."

Councilor-at-Large John Hanlon questioned the method to backfill the ditch. Hanlon wanted to make sure that the filling and repairs to the sidewalk be "done according to the way that the city says that it should be done."

The councillors voted unanimously to allow the permit for not only Union Street, but also for Beach Street, with the proviso that the condition of the sidewalks and streets be returned to the same or better condition.

After postponing the appointment of Monica Ford as City Treasurer from the last meeting, the council unanimously approved the appointment. At their September meeting, the councillors had wanted to see a resume and chance to meet with the candidate before approving Ford for the position that will expire in March, 2024.

The Councilors thought the new Ordinances for Motor Vehicle Dealer Licensing and Motor Vehicle Repair Licensing were not quite ready to be enacted. Hanlon had questioned and sought more precise language in the ordinances.

According to David Flood, a consultant at the City Clerk's office, the ordinances need to be put into standard format that would make it easier for both the applicant and the city personnel dealing with requests.

Flood noted that there are still several ordinances in the Legislative Affairs Committee and these were the first two to come out of that committee.

DiFlorio noted that the intent to give the city "more teeth to do our job," would be the right outcome. The councilors voted to send the ordinances back to Legislative Affairs.

A motion to have the Redevelopment Authority appear at the next meeting to explain the status of redevelopment in Everett Square caused some voices to be raised.

Council President

Wayne Matewsky took offense at the notion that he had been accused of singling out the Bouvier Building in Everett Square.

"I single out no one, but we have to start somewhere," said Matewsky. "This building is an eyesore and I thank city officials for having scaffolding erected around the building."

Councillors Stephanie Martins and Michael Mc-Laughlin want a community forum for possible projects for the spending of the American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA) funds. City Financial Officer Eric Demas said that the city has received more than $47 million in funds. He noted that the state has guidelines of acceptable projects for which the funds can be used and that the city has hired a consultant to make sure that the projects qualify. Several councillors voiced their wish list for how to spend the mon-Councillor-at-Large ey. Michael Marchese said he wanted some of the money to be used for new schools, such as the former Pope John site, which Marchese said he would like to see remain as a school, as opposed to a proposal to tear down the school for housing.

The next meeting of the City Council will be Monday, October 25.

Everett City Council with members of the animal advocates groups honored.

"They have reinvented the books beyond the absurd and cruel guidelines provided by the state so they can do what is humane - not what is easy", said Councilor Stephanie Martins, an animal advocate herself, as she presented the citations. "I hope the Chief is watching this and understands that we support the animals and the importance of this work in Everett", added Council President Wayne

Between emotional speeches and stories about their successes in Everett, the advocates agreed that the state seems to lean anti-rescue. "Yes, the state guidelines are anti-rescue, but not against breeding. You can breed anything with zero regulations but save a dog and you will deal with non-stop harassment. We can do better Massachusetts, this state needs to handle animals the way Everett does", Stacia continued.

During the recognition, Laurie Stathopoulos presented a donation of $1000 from Salem Saves Animals to the Everett Police Department K9s.

GENERAL COLIN POWELL

The death this past week of General Colin Powell at the age of 84 removes from our country one of the most outstanding persons ever to serve the United States.

Colin Powell was both a soldier and a statesman. What Dwight Eisenhower was to America in the middle of the 20th century, Colin Powell was to our country in the latter part of the century.

The son of Jamaican immigrants, Powell was a decorated war hero through two tours of duty in Vietnam and became a trusted advisor to three American presidents in various capacities while serving on the National Security Council, as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and as Secretary of State.

General Powell was a trailblazer, becoming the first Black person to serve our country in those capacities.

His straightforwardness and honesty set him apart from his peers. Powell had no agenda, other than doing what he thought was best for the country and the world. Whenever General Powell appeared as a guest on a

TV news show, it was must-see TV, because unlike politicians and others, he always could be counted upon to There was one glaring exception of course, and that

Pride and programs

By Mayor Carlo DeMaria

Clean neighborhoods, timely trash pickup, extrodinary snow removal, and addressing basic City needs are signs of a City Hall that cares about its residents. As you drive through the City of Everett, you will see newly paved roads with freshly poured concrete sidewalks, coupled with an abundance of newly planted trees. As Mayor, I take great pride in this City, its residents, and the services we provide.

The investments that have been made in our community have laid the foundation for Everett's future. If you look around our City, you will see very real examples of how my Administration has been able to provide all the basic services that our residents deserve while at the same time laying the foundation for our future. We have made important progress over the past few years along with lowering the tax rate. We need to keep up this momentum to keep improving the lives of all our residents. Supt. Tahaliani lauded Lt. Gov. Polito's visit to Everett as a way of promoting STEM Week and inspiring students.

"Having Lt. Governor Polito here to be able to visit and show the students how important this is, it makes the students feel a lot of confidence and feel pride in the work that they're doing – and also to just hear her talk about how important these fields are - I think that means a lot to our students," said Tahaliani. "

"We're doing some really exciting things with sciences and STEM in our schools," said Tahaliani. "The Keverian School has been a school that has focused on STEM a lot, especially in the middle school grades, and we see how wonderful the results have been. And that's why we want to push STEM learning to lower grades. To Ms. (Assistant Principal) Pires' point, we want to make this happen earlier, so that's why we're focusing on bringing it to grades K-4."

ON THE CAMPAIGN TRAIL

for Everett School Committee At Large

Cynthia Sarnie has announced Everett School Committee At Large. The following is her statement:

"I, Cynthia Sarnie of 30 Forest Ave, am pleased to announce my candidacy for School Committee At Large for the City of Everett. As most of you know, I have proudly represented my constituents for 10 years on the City Council and I now have served the last year and half on the School Committee.

As a lifelong resident and an Everett homeowner, my roots here in Everett are strong. The last three generations of my family, including my two children, were raised in Everett and educated in Everett Public Schools. I am employed at Century Bank and Trust as Customer Service Manager.

I have worked to solve many issues facing our city. One of the chief concerns is the quality of life in Everett. I support youth and elderly programs, as well as the public safety departments. My unwavering dedication to my constituents and to Everett compels me to advocate for enhanced human services, quality education, and cleaner and safer neighborhoods.

I have served on committees that identify and address priority needs in the community (Finance, Rules and Ordinances, Public Safety and Public Service).

Teachers play an important role in our lives. I know first-hand how important my teachers were when growing up. Some of you may know when I was young my father died in a tragic car accident when I was three months old, leaving my mom to raise four children. When I was sixteen, my mother passed away with breast cancer. I was a junior in high school at the time. I vividly remember my teacher Ms.Hannafit and Mr. Towers who not only took on the role of my mentor for weighing important life decisions but also a friend, who encouraged me to be strong and provided me with a trusted source of guidance. Both inspired me to work harder and to continue pursuing my goals. I would not be here today if it was not for teachers like Ms.Hannafit and Mr. Towers.

The value of a teacher in a student's life cannot be overstated. The role of a teacher in 21st century education extends way beyond the classroom. In addition to being experts in all subjects taught, teachers help build the foundation of a better tomorrow.

I have a proven track record of fighting for the citizens of Everett. I will continue to listen to your concerns and speak on your behalf. I work for you! I will work for our teachers and children! With your vote and my dedication, we can achieve results. Help me make our community a better place to live.

I want to ensure that Everett remains a community that people still feel safe and have a voice. With my 20 years of experience as a member of the Everett School Committee, I can help the council better understand the needs of our schools. I have always said "the city that takes care of their children ensures those children will come back and take care of their city".

MAYOR DEMARIA CAMPAIGNING

Mayor Carlo DeMaria, along with his supporters, have been busy campaigning around Everett.

DeMaria receives re-election endorsements

TEAMSTERS LOCAL 25 AND NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES LOCAL 298

Early last week, Mayor Carlo DeMaria earned two more endorsements from Teamsters Local 25 and the National Association of Government Employees (NAGE).

NAGE Local 298 represents public and private workers across all levels of government from police officers to healthcare workers and office workers. President of NAGE 298, Jennifer Sullivan said Mayor DeMaria's "leadership, dedication, and unparalleled expertise continue to be needed in leading the City of Everett. Examples of your successes of your leadership include: implementing inclusion in diversity, commitments in increased funding for education, standing up for our seniors, and making improvements in both infrastructure and transportation."

Teamsters Local 25 is one of the largest unions in Massachusetts, representing over 12,000 hard-working people and nearly 700 active and retired members in Everett. "As a life-long Everett resident, you have dedicated your life to serving the community and residents of Everett. Throughout your career in public service, you have shown a keen understanding of the importance of worker rights, fair wages, and the benefits of union membership," said President Sean M. O'Brien. "We share a common goal to make our communities better for our members to live, work, and raise a family, especially in the City of Everett.' "Having earned both these endorsements is truly humbling," said Mayor DeMaria. "Together, we have made great strides in improving the quality of life of Everett families, but more work has to be done.

I am extremely proud of the work that we have accomplished and the work that we will accomplish. Thank you Jennifer and Sean for your words of support and your dedication to improving the lives of hard working people."

GREATER BOSTON LABOR COUNCIL

Last week, Mayor Carlo DeMaria was formally endorsed by the Greater Boston Labor Council for his re-election as Mayor of Everett. The GBLC represents thousands of hardworking families across the Greater Boston area.

"As Massachusetts rebuilds and recovers from the COVID-19, our elected leaders have an unprecedented opportunity to help build an equitable economy that works for everyone," wrote Darlene Lobos, the Executive Secretary-Treasurer of the GBLC. "With unions, this can be a reality. Together, we can stop the race to the bottom."

"I am the Human Resource Generalist at Everett City Hall. I assist with various HR tasks, like recruiting, onboarding, orientation, and entering payroll data. I ensure all employee records are upto-date and confidential, as well as all other HR records."

What is your favorite part about working for Everett?

"I lived in Everett most of my life. Growing up in Everett, it is amazing to see how this city has transformed over the years and how it continues to progress. I have had the opportunity to work in the Everett school system as well as local businesses throughout the years.

So, being able to continue to work in Everett at City Hall has been a great experience for me. I love being a part of this community like my Mother was!"

What do you like to do when you are not working?

"I love spending quality time with family and friends! Every Sunday, my husband and I spend the day with my brothers and sister-in-law. I love having Sunday dinner together and reminiscing on old happy memories. I also love visiting my Nonna and spending time with her!"

Everett Police Superior Officers endorse Alfred Lattanzi for Ward 6 City Councilor

Local businessman Alfred Lattanzi has been formally endorsed by The Everett Police Superior Officers Association (NEPBA Local 95) for his candidacy for the open Ward 6 City Council seat.

In a letter to Lattanzi, NEPBA Local 95 President Lt. James Gabriel stated "You have been in a leadership position before and you know the value of working with others to accomplish a common goal. We believe that you will bring this leadership ability and willingness to work well with others to bring the services that the people of Everett deserve."

"The Everett Police Department continues to be a model to the entire Commonwealth on what community policing should look like," said Lattanzi. "I am honored to have the support of NEPBA Local 95, and will always be strong voice for added public safety resources," he added.

Alfred Lattanzi has been involved in local politics for a majority of his life. He worked as a campaign aid to his dear friend, the late Speaker George Keverian. He has also worked on many local campaigns and initiatives, and is proud of his contributions to the new city charter through his work on the Charter Commission. He has a reputation of being honest, trustworthy and a straight shooter. Al has seen where Everett has been, he sees the great progress we have made and he wants to be a part of where we're going.

also in high gear. Wide receivers Cam Mohammed, Syeed Gibbs, and Ish Zamor also found openings in the Revere defense and Ellerbe delivered accurate passes for long-gainers.

Offensive line sets the foundation

Everett's offensive line delivered another outstanding performance. Senior Jayden Biggi led the way into the end zone on Clerveaux's 6-yard touchdown run. Also excelling were left tackle Joe Murillo, left guard David Macharia, center Nick Raymond, and right tackle Hector Guevara. Meanwhile, Everett's Marcus Scott continues to make a case as one of the best players at his position (tight end) in the area.

Ish Zamor draws double-coverage

Boston College-bound senior Ish Zamor saw double-coverage at times throughout the game.

"Revere's defense was focusing on Ish – he was double-covered for most of the game," said Coach DiLoreto. "We try to be smart about play calling, and when they committed to 3-over-2 to our wideouts, it gave us a plus-1 number in the box, which I really think helped our run-game."

Georgetown U. was in the Bay State

The Georgetown University football team was in Worcester Saturday, losing to Holy Cross at Fitton Field. JC Clerveaux has received an offer from Georgetown, and the 6-foot-1 standout would be a welcomed presence in the Hoyas' backfield next season.

Tide can clinch GBL championship

The Everett High football team (5-0) can lock up the Greater Boston League championship with a win over Medford Friday night.

Everett is surprisingly at No. 8 in the MIAA power rankings that determine the playoff seedings. Despite handing highly ranked Xaverian its only loss, Everett is being hampered by the "strength of schedule" portion of the ratings formula. Other than Everett and Revere, who is 4-2, the GBL is simply not helping other teams playoff-seeding wise. In fact, Revere may not make the playoffs in its division - even with a potential 6-2 record and second-place finish behind Everett in the GBL standings.

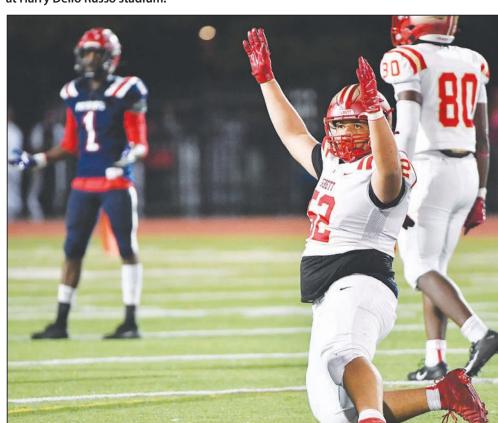

SHORT TRIP: Jayden Clerveaux (4) steps into the end zone after a six-yard run to score the fourth of his five touchdown on the night and put Everett up 29-11 in the third quarter.

TWIST AND SHOUT: Jayden Clerveaux (4) twists away from Revere's Sami El Asri and takes off for his third of five touchdowns that led Everett to a 37-11 win over Revere Friday night at Harry Dello Russo stadium.

PRAYERS ALMOST ANSWERED: Revere's Sami El Asri (3) and Everett's Syeed Gibbs (13) fight for the ball on an Everett "Hail Mary" pass on the last play of the first half. Gibbs Wondering how the vaccine was developed so quickly?

There's a lot of information out there and it's natural to have questions. Here's how it happened:

Coronaviruses aren't new. In fact, scientists had been studying similar viruses for years.

- When the COVID-19 pandemic began, public organizations, private companies, scientists, and experts across the globe came together to develop this vaccine safely.
- ✓ Vaccines were tested in three stages of clinical trials involving thousands of volunteers from all backgrounds, races, and ethnicities.
- After studying the data, three vaccines were deemed safe and effective by the FDA and CDC.
- Vaccines were manufactured in multiple labs to reach people across the country.

The vaccine was developed quickly, without cutting corners.

This past Saturday the Crimson Tide hosted nonleague rival Lynn Tech, which perennially is one of the top teams in the Commonwealth Athletic Conference.

After falling behind 1-0 in the first 15 minutes, Everett took control and eventually cruised to a 5-2 triumph. Cadet, Ty Alvin, Luan Cruz, and Tarik Lamadezema were among the Crimson Tide who reached the back of the Tech net.

"We started the game slowly and couldn't find our rhythm," said Blas. "But we woke up and dominated the rest of the game and touched the ball really well. I was proud of everyone's leadership and keeping their heads in the game."

Blas and his crew, who now stand at 10-1-3 on the season, were scheduled to play at Lynn English yesterday (Tuesday) and will host Somerville tomorrow. They will trek to Lawrence High for a nonleague encounter on Saturday and conclude their regular season next Tues-

TWO MORE WINS FOR EHS FIELD HOCKEY

The Everett High field hockey team had another successful week with two wins over non-league opponent Northeast Region-

Crimson earned a 7-1 victory last Monday. Omar Marshall and Kayley Rossi led the Everett offense, with Omar netting the hat trick and Kayley scoring two goals. Aadam Marshall and Kayleigh McMahon also added goals, which for Kayleigh, a freshman, marked her first varsity Aadam Marshall (2), Melissa Lopes (2), Cristina Snook, and Omar Marshall all earned assists on the day.

The Crimson Tide took on the Golden Knights in a rematch on Friday, and once again came away with the win. Snook rattled the Northeast net twice to record her first varsity goals. Rossi also scored two goals, with Omar Marshall and McMahon adding a goal apiece.

Aadam Marshall (2), Omar Marshall, Rossi, and Emma Buckley were credited with assists.

"Northeast gave a great defensive game and we had to battle with them," noted EHS head coach Melissa O'Donnell.

The Crimson Tide have a tough schedule this week as they conclude their regular season, starting with a contest against St. Mary's of Lynn this past Monday. They were scheduled to trek to Hamilton-Wenham yesterday (Tuesday) and will host Malden today (Wednesday). They will entertain Haverhill on Friday and Peabody next Monday.

EHS GOLFERS WRAP UP THEIR SEASON

The improving Everett High golf team concluded its season this past week with a pair of strong performances against Greater Boston League rivals Somerville and Lynn English. Although the Crimson Tide came up on the short end of both matches by scores of 40-32 and 42-30 respectively, EHS head coach Steve Gallagher was pleased with his team's overall performance.

"We found ourselves in two tight matches this week, but ultimately didn't do enough to get a win," said Gallagher.

This past Friday the GBL held its championship tournament to which all of the GBL schools sent their top two players. Everett was represented by junior Alex Velasco and sophomore Makenzie Powers.

"Both played well, but it was going to take a flawless round to place amongst the league's best," Gallagher noted.

"Despite going winless this season, we made great strides for the future," said Gallagher, reflecting upon the 2021 campaign. "The growth of the game in the city will continue to be the largest barrier to success, but we have a good core and we are up for the challenge."

CROSS COUNTRY TEAMS DO WELL AGAINST MEDFORD

EHS GIRLS SOCCER BLANKS CHELSEA, 5-0

The Everett High girls soccer team earned a 4-0 victory over Chelsea last Tuesday.

The goal-scorers for the Lady Crimson Tide were freshman Yelsa Garcia, who reached the back of the Chelea net for two goals, senior captain Gigi Boyce, and senior Nicole Mumbi.

Senior Stephanie Azurdia and junior Lamiah Wyzard shared the goal-keeping duties to earn the clean sheet.

Two days later the Everett squad trekked to Lynn Classical and came up on the short end of a 2-0 decision.

"This was a tough game," said EHS head coach Sheryl Steeves. "Captain Mariana Madrigal Orrego was the goal keeper and played a really strong game. Freshman Emilia Maria-Babcock played an amazing game on defense. She had a few amazing saves."

As a proud member of AA, part of the 12 Traditions is that the AA name ought never be brought into controversy. I feel that by specifically naming AA and putting that program up against others that charge a fee is not fair to anyone. THANK YOU FOR THE SUPPORT

To the Editor:

I am the Executive Director of For Kids Only Afterschool (FKO) and I am writing to thank the City of Everett and Mayor Carlo DeMaria for the longtime support of children and families enrolled in our afterschool programs. I first came to Everett in a professional capacity in 2007. I worked with Mayor DeMaria as part of the Everett After School Team (EAST) which convened city and legislative leaders, school officials, community partners, parents and other stakeholders. EAST led a broad community needs assessment process that identified afterschool services as a top community need, and in response the City of Everett and Everett Public Schools invited FKO to become the contracted afterschool provider for the community. With support of Mayor DeMaria and the backing of EAST, FKO opened programs at six different elementary schools which operated year-round until the COVID-19 pandemic closed school buildings in March 2020.

schools were closed at the onset of the COVID-19 pandemic, FKO has been unable to continue services in shared space at Everett Public School buildings. However, with the commitment of the City of Everett and Mayor DeMaria to continue in-person programming for Everett families, FKO secured safe classroom space at the former Pope John Academy in July 2020, where we continue to operate to this day.

Since FKO's Everett Afterschool Program began, Mayor DeMaria has been a vocal advocate for dedicated funding to award afterschool scholarships to students in need and always made sure the city focused on providing struggling working families with access to these important services. Further, the commitment of city resources to transport homeless children back to their families every day meant that they could attend afterschool programming with their peers; without the Mayor's commitment they would not have been able to do so. I have enjoyed Mayor DeMaria's frequent visits to our programs, joining the children at Showcase Nights and end-of-year celebrations. I fondly recall the time children at the Keverian School got the Mayor directly involved in a special project they launched. They created a "Kids Youth Council" hoping to make an impact on their community and began advocating to update their school's playground. They wrote to the Mayor, explained the need for mulch to be added under the playground equipment for safety and invited him to come for a visit so they could make their case. The children were thrilled and so proud when, just a few weeks after they reached out, they looked out the window to see mulch being dropped off. It's moments like these that show just how big of a heart print Mayor DeMaria has left on the children of FKO and the community.

The support from Mayor DeMaria and the City of Everett over the years has led to tremendous opportunities for children and families in our community, including:

- · Access to year-round afterschool and full-day summer learning programs for thousands of Everett children and youth;
- Transportation services to and from afterschool programming;

• Innovative remote

- learning support services for students needing care and supervision during remote school days; • High-quality learning
- recovery and enrichment through programs like the United Way's Summer Step Up grant;
- · Access to resources, such as translation services, nutritious meals and holiday gifts;
 - And much more!

FKO will continue to collaborate with our partners in Everett to provide public and private financial assistance to eligible families who need and want fun and engaging afterschool and summer enrichment experiences for their children.

We are forever grateful for the collaborations and friendships that have been made with Mayor DeMaria and the City of Everett over the past 14 years and we look forward to continuing our work together. I would be remis not to share a special thank you to School Committee member Millie Cardello and City Councilor Michael McLaughlin who, along with so many other public officials and community leaders, have gone above and beyond to promote access for all to quality out-of-school time programming in the City of Everett.

CAPONE IS THE RIGHT CHOICE

To the Editor:

I am writing this to show my support for Fred Capone for Mayor! I believe he is the right choice in this election - he will lead with integrity and make you proud to be from Everett.

I grew up 'down the village' near Fred's wife, Michele, and I became close with her family.

I later moved to Everett Street and became friends with Fred's mother, Rose, and her four boys.

It was incredible to see two nice families come together.

Now, many years later, I've watched Fred, Michele and their children give back to Everett.

Michele's many volvements include her work with the Friends of Everett Libraries and also was a library trustee. Fred has served eight years on the Council and has done extensive volunteer work including time helping at the Grace Food Pantry. They have donated many scholarships through the years to deserving students. One recipient was my niece. They believe that helping others is important.

Now Fred is running for Mayor! He stands for honest government and is committed to making all residents his priority. That is something that has changed in recent years.

Please join me in supporting Fred Capone for Mayor.

MVES urges seniors to get both your flu and COVID vaccinations ASAP

With the flu preparing to settle in for the fall and winter, it is crucial seniors take proactive steps against the flu. Public health officials are urging Americans, especially older adults, to get their seasonal flu vaccine early this year, especially with the COVID-19 Pandemic still in existence. Those over 65 years of age are more susceptible to both the flu and COVID-19. Both diseases prompt an inflammatory response in individuals and people with underlying health conditions, such as coronary artery disease, are already at increased risk of severe illness from COVID-19, according to the CDC. It's more important than ever to get a flu shot this fall and the sooner the better. And if you have not received both doses for your COVID Vaccine, please do so as soon as possible

Mystic Valley Elder Services wants to remind individuals that it is offering free transportation services via one of MVES' transportation providers to adults 60 years and older to local COVID-19 and Flu vaccine sites. You do not have to wait until you have booked an appointment to be vaccinated or to receive a flu shot to receive free transportation for COVID-19 vaccinations including any booster shots recommended by your primary care physician along with transportation for those electing to receive the annual flu vaccine.

The CDC stated the Pfizer COVID-19 booster is now available to individuals 65 years of age and older and individuals 60 years of age and older at risk for severe COVID-19 due to certain underlying medical conditions.

MVES understands that older adults are more susceptible to the flu and pandemic and feels it is important to help all older residents in its 11 communities served get vaccinated for both. So if you live in Chelsea, Everett, Malden, Medford, Melrose North Reading, Reading, Revere, Stoneham, Wakefield or Winthrop, give us a call at 781-324-7705 MVES offers translation services over the phone or on our website mves.org.

Sen. DiDomenico testifies in support of the VOTES Act

Senator Sal DiDomenico and his colleagues in the Massachusetts State Senate recently passed S.2545, An Act fostering voter opportunities, trust, equity, and security, also known as the VOTES Act. This comprehensive voting reform bill permanently codifies the popular mail-in and early voting options used in Massachusetts in 2020. The bill would also enact same-day voter registration, increase ballot access for service members serving overseas, and make a series of other improvements to the Commonwealth's election administration process. "As one of the very first co-sponsors of this legislation, I am very proud of the Senate's recent action to pass the VOTES Act," said Senator DiDomenico, Assistant Majority Leader of the Massachusetts Senate. "This bill will prove to be critical in expanding voting access across the Commonwealth by making several COVID-era voting provisions permanent, including expansions to early voting, vote-bymail, and absentee ballot access. Additionally, the legislation takes a historic step to implement sameday voter registration and will ensure greater voting access to all eligible voters. These are all policies that I have long supported, and I am very pleased that the Senate has affirmed our commitment to making voting easier and more accessible for all."

Responding to trends in voting and building off previous actions taken by the Legislature, the VOTES Act contains the following key provisions:

Same-Day Voter Regis-

· Individuals would be able to register to vote during early voting periods or on the day of a primary or election.

· Twenty other states and the District of Columbia already use same-day registration.

Early Voting In-Person

· The bill would require two weeks (including two weekends) of early voting in-person for biennial state elections and any municipal elections held on the same day.

· The bill would require one week (including one weekend) of early voting in-person for a presidential or state primary and any municipal elections held on the same day.

· The bill would allow municipalities to opt-in to early voting in-person for any municipal election not held concurrently with another election.

Permanent No-Excuse Mail-In Voting

The bill would require the Secretary of the Commonwealth to send out mail-in ballot applications to all registered voters on July 15 of every even-numbered year; the Secretary of the Commonwealth would have the option to include these applications as part of mailings already required to be sent by the Secretary.

· As in 2020, postage would be guaranteed for mail-in ballot applications and ballots.

· As in 2020, mail-in ballots would be accepted for a biennial state election if mailed on or by election day and received by 5PM on the third day after the election.

Additional Flexibility For Local Officials

· The bill would give municipalities the option to set up secure drop boxes for mail-in ballots.

· The bill would allow election officials to pre-process mail-in and early voting ballots in advance of Election Day.

· The bill would give municipalities discretion as to the use of a check-out list at a polling location.

Accommodations For People With Disabilities

· The bill would allow a voter with disabilities to request accommodations from the Secretary of the Commonwealth to vote by mail for state elections.

Accommodations would include: electronic and accessible instructions, ballot application, ballot, and a voter affidavit that can be submitted electronically.

Jail-Based Voting Re-

· The bill would help ensure that individuals who are incarcerated who are currently eligible to vote are provided with voting information and materials to exercise their right to vote in every state primary and election.

· Through inclusion of an amendment, the bill would ensure that individuals who are incarcerated are properly notified of their right to vote upon release and given the opportunity fill out a voter registration form

Joining the Electronic Registration Information Center (ERIC)

· The bill would require the Secretary of the Commonwealth to enter into an agreement with ERIC no later than July 1, 2022. · Thirty other states have already joined ERIC, which helps states keep more updated and accurate voting registrations to ensure voting integrity The Senate also unanimously approved an amendment to the VOTES Act targeting vote-by-mail ballot access by U.S. service members residing overseas and allowing for them to cast their vote electronically.

The bill, through inclusion of an amendment, would also instruct the Secretary of State to conduct a comprehensive public awareness campaign to highlight the new voting and registration options.

This vote follows previous action by the Legislature to temporarily extend vote-by-mail and early voting options through December 15, 2021.

The VOTES Act now advances on to the Massachusetts House of Representatives for further consideration.

But Jeffrey Galpin did more than survive polio. He went on to a list of achievements in medical research—including being the principal investigator in applying the first gene therapy for HIV/AIDS.

Dr. Galpin actually credits his own incurable condition for giving him the focus that made him so passionate in his research. His story leaves us with two of the most contagious messages we know. MVRCS SENIORS EARN ADAMS SCHOLARSHIP

Thirty-three members of Mystic Valley Regional Charter School's Class of 2022 received the John and Abigail Adams Scholarship, it was announced recently by the Massachusetts Department of Elementary and Secondary Education. The 33 students represents over half of MVRCS' total graduating class, making the school one of a select few throughout the Commonwealth in which a majority of its graduating seniors received the scholarship award. The scholarship entitles the graduate to four years of tuition assistance at any Massachusetts state college or university.

"The Adams Scholarship is the culmination of many years of hard work not only on behalf of these young men and women but by our faculty, staff and administrators," Director/Superintendent Alex Dan said. "We are so proud of each and every one of the members of the Class of 2022 as they join a long list of MVRCS alumni to achieve the distinction."

Because only 25 percent of any given district's students are eligible for the John and Abigail Adams Scholarship (each city is capped at 25% regardless of where those students attend school), the fact that 54 percent of MVRCS' Class of 2022 earned this designation firmly proves that the school delivers a far more rigorous education when compared to its sending districts.

"Receiving the list and informing the student and their families of this great honor never gets old," Matthew Stone, MVRCS' Assistant Director said. "The accomplishment serves as validation when it comes to our academic approach not only in our High School building but on our Lower School campus."

Since 1998, MVRCS has been delivering a world-class education characterized by a well-mannered, disciplined and structured academic climate. The school is stepped in core virtues and fundamental ideals of our American Culture which are embodied in both the Declaration of Independence and Constitution.

Rivergreen Park bench dedicated

Mayor DeMaria joined together with members of the Cafazzo family to dedicate a bench at Rivergreen Park to the late Dan Cafazzo.

Mayor DeMaria talked about Dan's commitment to the City.

Professionally Dan was a union man and worked as a laborer for Local 22 until 1999 when he was injured. After that, he worked as a member of the Boston Garden's bull gang where he was responsible for painting the "B" on the ice for the Bruins games, and laying the floor for the Celtics. There wasn't much he couldn't do.

Dan dedicated a great deal of his time to his community. He was the President of the Carmen A. Schiavo Club from 2008-2013. His commitment to helping others was impressive. He was a great supporter of local law enforcement and Boston Children's Hospital.

In 2009, Dan started the tradition of the Thanksgiving Dinner at the Schiavo offering a meal with an open-door policy to all Everett residents.

"Anyone that knew Dan knew that as much as he enjoyed giving back and volunteering in the community, he was truly the happiest when he was surrounded by his family," said Mayor DeMaria.

"Rivergreen Park is truly one of my favorite places in Everett. It's a hidden oasis surrounded by the river and greenery. It really is beautiful. And like Dan, I think it represents some of the best things about Everett. It is my hope that when you come here and sit on this bench, you can reflect on the wonderful memories of your husband, father, grandfather, and friend," said Mayor DeMaria.

Mayor DeMaria, Stacy DeMaria, City Councilors Michael McLaughlin, Anthony DiPierro, and Rosa DiFlorio with members of the Cafazzo family.

Pioneer Charter School of Science providing additional supports to students and staff

A month in, the 2021-2022 school year looks markedly different for students not only across the nation, but in Everett and Saugus too. Students have resumed full-time in-person learning, but the change to the "new normal" after months of solitude and video meetings is an abrupt reversal for most adults - nevermind for the developing brains of students who still have to decide what they are going to wear to school or who they will sit with at

In order to ease this transition, The Pioneer Charter School, a K-12 system with campuses in Everett and Saugus, has started a series of community-building events and exercises to help students get reacquainted and develop new relationships with each other and with teachers and staff.

"Fun Fridays" includes indoor and outdoor after-school interactive activities like table games, dodgeball, ping pong, kickball and movies, so students can collaborate, compete and re-engage with each other.

A wide range of social enrichment clubs have also started again and students are gathering after school to participate in the Guitar Club, Math Club and Social Justice Club among dozens of others. Field trips have also resumed, and students have already visited the Institute of Contemporary Art in Boston.

The school has seen great response by both students and staff to these programs. Sanela Jonuz, the Executive Director of the Everett campus noted: "Our Panthers are super excited about the new school year, as are we, and we want to make sure we address their academic and social emotional needs after a year in which they faced unprecedented challenges."

The school is also implementing numerous academic initiatives to assess and address learning losses that developed over the course of the pandemic. PCSS started its year earlier than usual to give students extra time to transition back and provide teachers additional time to prepare learning plans. The school is hiring additional staff to help students both during and after school, and doubled the number of teacher-coaches to support teachers in the classroom. PCSS long-running Saturday tutoring program is running virtually.

The PCSS Panthers are excited about the new school year. Students had a great time at the club showcase. Pictured (above and below) are teachers hosting the afterschool science
