HARVARD KENNEDY STUDENTS PRESENT AT CITY HALL

Special to the Independent

Mayor Carlo DeMaria and members of City staff were pleased to be joined by students from the Harvard Kennedy School (HKS) for a presentation on their semester-long project focusing on the opportunity for redevelopment at the 96.5-acre Exxon Mobil site.

Utilizing Mayor DeMaria's vision of the Lower Broadway Economic Development District to create a more vibrant district by replacing the unsightly and toxic parcels with highest and best uses, the students put together redevelopment scenarios through collaboration with local and State officials.

Throughout the presentation, it was heavily emphasized that transportation improvements, such as the extension of the Silver Line and the installation of a Commuter Rail station in the area, are essential to achieving a high-density development that brings thousands of new jobs, residential units, and engaging retail.

The presentation concluded with an immersive Virtual Reality tour of the site, bringing to life the vision shared by both the City of Everett and the HKS students.

FOUR OFFICERS ARE APPOINTED TO EVERETT POLICE DEPARTMENT

The Everett City Council confirmed the appointments of Nicholas Maloof, John Comerford, Brittany Bolduc, and Sandra Rivas to the Everett Police Department at its meeting Monday.

City Clerk Sergio Cornelio administered the oath to the four officers in the City Council Chambers.

As has become the tradition, the city councillors offered their individual congratulatory wishes to each of the four officers and took an official group photo with the officers.

Police Chief Steven Mazzie attended the ceremony and personally welcomed the new officers into the Everett Police Department.

FROM THE CITY COUNCIL MONDAY NIGHT MEETING

City Council observes moment of silence in honor of former resident Betty Lakey-Smith

At the request of Ward 1 Councilor Wayne Matewsky, the City Council observed a moment of silence in memory of Betty Lakey-Smith at the start of the Council meeting Monday.

Mrs. Smith was the mother of former state representative Stephen "Stat" Smith and the grandmother of Councilor-at-Large Stephanie Smith.

"Betty Lakey-Smith, who resided in Florida for the last five or six years, passed away on April 26 at the age of 88," said Councilor Matewsky. "She was a wonderful person, somebody who was so kind. As a matter of fact, when I had my heart attack [in Florida] two years ago, she resided in Fort Lauderdale. I was in the hospital for 31 days, and she came every single day and I'll never forget that."

Matewsky said that Mrs. Smith served on the board of directors of two museums in Fort Lauderdale and was a popular host at a well-known restaurant.

"My condolences to the family, and I ask that you stand in a moment of silence," concluded Matewsky.

Councilor Nguyen requests installation of speed bump at busy intersection

Call it "City Council teamwork."

Ward 5 Councilor Vivian Nguyen requested at Monday night's council meeting that a speed bump be constructed at the intersection of Kinsman Street, Bradford Street, and Park Road.

Nguyen said she had initially brought up the issue prior to the winter season, but asked for reconsideration, "since this intersection does have a lot of complaints on speedy cars, and it is a five-way shaped intersection."

Nguyen requested that the matter be referred to the entire Traffic Commission. But Ward 1 Councilor Wayne Matewsky, acting as a good-intentioned Council colleague, politely suggested that the mat-

Candidates pull nomination papers for 2023 election

By Cary Shuman

As soon as the Everett Election Department opened its doors Monday morning, candidates began pulling their nomination papers for the 2023 municipal election.

Ward 6 Councilor Al Lattanzi, former Ward 3 Councilor Anthony DiPierro, and Ward 2 School Committee member Jason Marcus were the first to pull their nomination papers.

Joanne Garren, mother of two children, ages 4 years old and 18 months old, pulled nomination papers just before 9 a.m. for Ward 2 School Committee and School Committee at-large.

Katy Rogers, well-known professional photographer and lifelong resident, entered the Election Department office shortly after 9 a.m. and pulled her nomination papers for the City Council at-large election. Angelmarie DiNunzio also pulled nomination papers for the at-large election.

Five other current members of the City Council, Council President Michael Marchese, Councilor-at-Large John Hanlon, Ward 1 Councilor Wayne Matewsky, Ward 2 Councilor Stephanie Martins, and Ward 5 Councilor Vivian Nguyen pulled papers, indicating their intention to seek re-election.

The Ward 4 City Council election has drawn significant early interest with four candidates, incumbent Councilor Jimmy Tri Le, and challengers Kimberly Kit Bridge, Holly Garcia, and Nancy Cianchetta, having pulled nomination papers.

As of press time Tuesday, Election Commissioner Danielle Pietrantonio reported that 22 candidates had pulled

Suffolk Downs to host second union job information session

Area residents interested in learning about life-changing career opportunities in the union building trades are encouraged to attend a free union job information session being held Tuesday, May 23 from 5-7pm at Suffolk Downs. The Greater Boston Building Trades Unions, John Moriarty and Associates, The HYM Investment Group LLC (“HYM”) and the City of Revere will host their second construction industry-focused job information session to recruit and train the next generation of building trades workers. The event is free to all jobseekers and attendees will learn about the thousands of new construction jobs coming to the area throughout the 15-to-20-year build-out of Suffolk Downs from both union representatives as well as current subcontractors working on site. No prior construction experience is required to attend.

“I’ve witnessed firsthand how union employment changes lives, and having a project like Suffolk Downs in Revere is transformative for hundreds of residents and their families,” said Acting Revere Mayor Patrick Keefe. “We’re grateful for HYM’s support of pushing these opportunities with our residents and I encourage all Revere union trade members to attend if they’re interested in being part of this historic project.”

“We’re grateful for our partnership with the Greater Boston Building Trades Unions, North Atlantic States Regional Council of Carpenters, John Moriarty & Associates, and The City of Revere, in ensuring that Suffolk Downs will be union-built and that the construction of Suffolk Downs will provide meaningful career opportunities and real economic benefits to the Greater Boston and Revere communities,” said HYM Managing Partner and Chief Executive Officer, Thomas N. O’Brien.

“Ensuring that Suffolk Downs will be union-built and that an entire generation of workers in the area will experience family-sustaining career opportunities is extremely important to us. We are grateful for our partnership with the Building Trades Union and HYM to help facilitate that goal on such a significant and rewarding project such as this,” said John Moriarty of John Moriarty & Associates.

“The Greater Boston

Building Trades Unions have a dual mission of making sure every career in the construction industry is a good one and of creating pathways to ensure that everyone has access to these good, union careers. Partnerships like the one we have developed with Suffolk Downs help us to further that dual mission. We are proud to be part of this great project -- it’s a project that will make many positive impacts for workers, for housing needs, and which incorporates a range of innovative and environmentally conscious construction efforts. We hope to see a great turnout at this event so that folks can learn even more about the wide range of great union career opportunities that will be available through this project,” said Brian Doherty, General Agent, Greater Boston Building Trades Unions.

The HYM Investment Group, Building Trades Union, John Moriarty & Associates, and North Atlantic States Regional Council of Carpenters announced in January of 2020 the signing of an unprecedented Project Labor Agreement (PLA) for the construction of the Suffolk Downs Redevelopment. The agreement will ensure Suffolk Downs is union-built and creates 18,000 construction jobs, while designing and constructing more efficiently to allow housing to be built more affordably. As part of the agreement, HYM announced $2 million in investments that will go towards building an employment pipeline to quality, union jobs, and to prepare local residents to join the future workforce at Suffolk Downs. The PLA also creates a new cost structure and a model that sets forth several equity and inclusion provisions that will bring more workers into the trades. This innovative approach will further increase the number of women and people of color who benefit from the career opportunities generated by the project while lowering the overall cost of residential construction.

Registration for the Suffolk Downs Job Information Session is encouraged, and walk-ins are welcome. The event will take place outside at the Paddock (accessible via The Track at Suffolk Downs). Parking is free and available onsite. Suffolk Downs is accessible from the MBTA Beachmont and Suffolk Downs stations.

PCSS student reunited with Canadian Police Officers who helped save his life after shooting

A year ago, a joyful visit with relatives turned tragic when Sandrick Jorcelin was shot while traveling in a car with his uncle and other family members just outside Montreal. They were returning from his aunt’s birthday party when a car pulled up alongside and opened fire. Sandrick was hit multiple times and if it weren’t for quick action by local police officers to administer medical treatment at the scene, he would have died.

This week, those same police officers traveled all the way to Everett to visit Sandrick at his school, the Pioneer Charter School of Science. The officers, Olivier Riopel and Melissa Fontaine spent time with Sandrick and fellow classmates. The school community has rallied around Sandrick to provide support as he continues to recover. Sandrick, 15, is a 9th grader at PCSS I in Everett.

“Sandrick has become a role model and a leader at the school,” Sanela Jonuz, PCSS Principal, said. “We were all horrified when this happened to Sandrick and his family, but he has shown an amazing amount of resilience and courage since coming back to school. Being able to spend time with the police officers who helped save his life was really emotional for all of us.”

Officers Olivier Riopel and Melissa Fontaine were able to meet Sandrick Jorcelin’s classmates.

SENATOR DIDOMENICO HOSTS FEEDING OUR NEIGHBORS COALITION AND COMMUNITY LEADERS AT STATE HOUSE

Last week, Senator DiDomenico joined the Feeding Our Neighbors Coalition for a legislative briefing in support of his bill to provide basic needs assistance for Massachusetts immigrant residents (S.76/H.135). The event highlighted the need for DiDomenico’s legislation and funding in the budget to restore basic food and cash assistance benefits for legally present immigrants, and included remarks from Senator DiDomenico, Representatives Judith Garcia and Tony Cabral, medical professionals, and community leaders, such as Gladys Vega of La Colaborativa, that work with immigrant families.

Thousands of immigrants remain ineligible for federal SNAP and cash assistance benefits due to harsh eligibility restrictions put in effect since 1996. Massachusetts has provided state-funded nutrition and cash assistance benefits in the past, from 1997 to 2002 when the Legislature unanimously voted to provide key benefits.

“While the prices of food and housing are rising, thousands of Massachusetts residents are being denied vital food and cash assistance benefits because of unreasonable and cruel eligibility restrictions,” said State Senator Sal DiDomenico. “Government can and should do everything it can to ensure its residents have basic living standards, and this is an easy step to take to protect countless people who are suffering in my district and across our state. I want to thank the Feeding Our Neighbors Coalition for their work on this issue and I will continue to partner with these organizations and my colleagues to get this unjust policy fixed.”

DESANTIS VS. DISNEY: THIS IS WHAT AN AUTOCRACY LOOKS LIKE

The ongoing battle that Florida Governor Ron DeSantis has been waging against the Walt Disney Company not only demonstrates what a petty, vindictive, and mean-spirited little man he is, but also illustrates the danger that an autocratic ruler poses to our democracy.

The essence of the dispute, for those who may not be familiar with it, is this: The State of Florida granted special incentives to the Disney Company more than 50 years ago in order to entice Disney to turn what had been swampland in Central Florida into what has become a global behemoth, employing tens of thousands of Floridians and bringing literally billions of dollars into state coffers.

That Florida-Disney partnership was similar to what every state in the country has done over the past 60 years in order to encourage private development. Even Massachusetts, not exactly known as a business-friendly state, has had many programs that have provided tax breaks to private developers for large-scale projects.

In early 2022, former Disney CEO Bob Chapek took issue with a bill signed by DeSantis (the so-called Don't Say Gay law). Chapek did so in support of many of Disney's employees, who found the bill to be offensive.

In response, DeSantis simply could have said, "Disney is entitled to its opinion, but the voters and legislature agree with me," and that would have been the end of it. Instead, DeSantis has turned the disagreement into an all-out war on Disney, seeking to strip it of the special tax-status that has existed for almost six decades. He even went so far as to suggest that he would build a new state prison adjacent to Disney World.

There are two important things to note: First, DeSantis had been governor for four years (and an elected Florida official for more than a decade) and never once had suggested that the long standing Disney-Florida relationship should be changed. It was only when Disney expressed an opinion in opposition to his law that DeSantis took retaliatory action.

Second, similar partnerships exist with other corporate entities in Florida (most notably Universal Studios), yet DeSantis is not suggesting that those agreements be undone.

Ron DeSantis's war on Disney in an obvious attempt to show that he is just as much a "macho man" as Donald Trump in an effort to appeal to Trump's extreme voter base. But as we all know, men who constantly feel the need to prove their masculinity are incredibly insecure — and when these small-minded men are in positions of power, this makes them incredibly dangerous.

Ron DeSantis's actions against Disney have achieved the impossible — he makes Donald Trump look like a reasonable person. As DeSantis contemplates a run for president, his effort to silence the First Amendment rights of Disney and others serves as clear evidence of his unfitness to be President and a stark manifestation of the danger he would pose to our democracy.

Mother's Day and your time of course.

Mom helped me with my homework. She washed and ironed my clothes. She put breakfast on the table for me every morning. She had something for me to eat every day when I came home from school. She read to me when I was a child and took care of me when I was sick. During the summer we would carry water from our nearby creek to wash clothes. Typically, we caught rain water in large tubs to wash our clothes but summer months often brought dry weather. We had lunch together every day during the summer break. Usually, it was a homemade sandwich and sometimes a candy bar from Grandpa Hinkle's grocery store. I once wanted root beer and she said, "You won't like it." I debated that I would but I didn't. I was stuck with the root beer.

She never hesitated to set me straight with a peach tree limb across my back side.

If she were alive today, I would try to make up for all the things I didn't do or didn't consider doing. I always had good intentions for all the things I might try to do for mom and dad but they slipped from this life before I had the opportunity.

Missed opportunities happen often to most of us. We have good intentions but often we don't have the ability to act on those intentions. I'm envious of those who are able to do a lot for their moms and dads and wish that I could have done more.

However, so often what we can do are the simplest things that mean so much. Today, I don't want my family to do anything for me but call me or visit me occasionally. A hug and some shared times are the most meaningful to me. Some good quality time is actually the best gift we can give to mom, dad or anyone.

Our time is fleeting for us all. To be generous with a visit, conversation and sharing of life is probably the most precious gift we can give.

Mother's Day is coming. Set aside your best gift — your time.

You may have lost your mother early in life or never really knew your mother. My two sons were only 17 and 20 when their mother passed at the age of 49 from multiple sclerosis. Mother's Day is a tough day for them and many others around the world. This day may be very difficult for you.

My mother has also passed on but I remember her as one of the hardest working persons I've ever known. On Sunday and often during the week she loved getting dressed up and going to church. One of the greatest enjoyments of her life was singing in a gospel quartet with my dad and another lovely couple.

Lattanzi announces intention to seek re-election

Ward Six City Councilor Alfred Lattanzi has announced he will seek re-election to the City Council. Lattanzi was first elected to represent Ward Six in the 2021 municipal election and has a 100% attendance record at City Council meetings.

The following is Alfred Lattanzi's statement:

"It's been the honor of a life-time to represent my neighbors on the City Council and I'm excited for the work ahead," said Lattanzi. "I put the needs of my constituents above all else and I look forward to continuing to be their voice at City Hall," he added.

Alfred Lattanzi has been a dedicated member of the Everett community for his entire life. He serves on the Traffic Commission and is the Vice-Chairman of the Everett Redevelopment Authority. He was elected to the Board of Directors of the Everett Credit Union, first as director then as Treasurer. In 2009, he was elected city-wide to the Everett Charter Commission, which produced our current unicameral City Council that was ratified by voters in 2011. He is also the owner of Everett Supply & True Value Hardware Store on Main Street, Everett.

Lattanzi learned the value of hard work at a young age while growing up in a working-class Everett family. After graduating from Everett High School, he went on to graduate from Wentworth Institute of Technology & Franklin Institute of Technology. While working at Charles T. Main Engineering, he continued his education and graduated with a Bachelor's Degree in Civil Engineering from Northeastern University.

A few years later, Lattanzi decided to enter into business with his parents, Mary and Babe, at Everett Supply, which his parents started in 1950. Together, they enhanced the business, providing quality work and supplies to their neighborhood and beyond. The family business has thrived for over 70 years, but what hasn't changed is the company's dedication to their city and its neighbors.

Lattanzi is a dedicated husband and father. He and his wife, Dolores, adopted two children, Alfred and Matthew. Alfred helps manage the family business, while Matthew went on to become an attorney. He is also the proud grandfather of Austin.

Lattanzi has been involved in local politics for a majority of his life. He worked as a campaign aid to his dear friend, the late Speaker George Keverian. He also worked on many local campaigns and initiatives, and is proud of his contributions to the city charter through his work on Charter Commission. He has a reputation of being honest, trustworthy and a straight shooter.

Alfred Lattanzi has seen where Everett has been, he sees the great progress the City has made, and he wants to be a part of where we're going. Everett has been and will forever be his home. He is proud of his hometown, he cares about the residents of Everett, and he is ready to keep working for you!

Alfred can be reached by calling 617-594-0455, by emailing lattanzicommittee@gmail.com, or by stopping by his place of business during regular business hours.

East Boston's Piers Park Sailing Center honored for its inclusive sailing programs

Triangle, Inc., a 50-year-old nonprofit based in Malden that serves people with disabilities and their families, honored the Piers Park Sailing Center as its 2023 Carmella Gregorie Advocacy award recipient on Thursday, April 27, at its annual gala.

Piers Park Sailing Center, a nonprofit organization located on East Boston's waterfront, is celebrating its 25th anniversary and has reached over 25,000 sailors of all abilities since 1998. The center is among fewer than ten U.S. Sailing-accredited Adaptive Sailing Centers in the country. The center's youth programs bring students with and without disabilities together to learn sailing and explore the natural world around them. Piers Park offers "give it a try" sailing lessons to adults with spinal cord injuries and special programs for people with spina bifida, multiple sclerosis, traumatic brain injuries, and other diagnoses. The center has provided sailing opportunities to nearly 3,000 people with disabilities. Within the last five years, Triangle and Piers Park have partnered to offer residents a six-week adaptive sailing program for the summer season.

"Triangle is proud of our partnership with the Piers Park Sailing Center, which has provided wonderful and empowering experiences for people of all abilities," said Coleman Nee, CEO of Triangle, Inc. "This incredible program gives our participants the opportunity of a lifetime and teaches them valuable life lessons both on and off the water. We hope to provide more sailing opportunities for our community and continue our strong partnership with this incredible organization for many years to come."

Triangle presented the following additional awards to groups and individuals for their contributions and advocacy for the disability community:

- Public Servant of the Year Award went to Senator Sal DiDomenico, who represents Boston, Cambridge, Chelsea, and Everett was recognized for his backing and partnership with advocacy groups to support individuals with disabilities and their families with emergency aid during the height of the pandemic. In 2020, Senator DiDomenico and his colleagues passed "An Act Creating Higher Education Opportunities for Students with Intellectual and Developmental Disabilities," eliminating barriers for individuals to pursue inclusive academic, social, and career development opportunities on college campuses with their peers.

- Stan Black Business Leader of the Year Award was accepted by Rally 2 Give Foundation for its significant impact in helping organizations that support both youth and adults with disabilities throughout New England. Since its founding in 2016, Triangle has received over $60,000 in grant support from the foundation and their friends, funding the Career Pathway programs, abuse prevention classes and recently helping the launch of Triangle's Prism Program.

- The Ability Award was given to Ralph "RJ" Churchill, a member from Triangle's Community-Based Services program in Salem, who helped Salem staff develop strategies for working through stressful situations. The Triangle community recognizes RJ as a self-starter, who has demonstrated a hard-working and positive attitude toward his managers, co-workers, and Triangle staff members. In 2021, RJ worked at Salem City Hall three days a week, where he was responsible for recycling for two municipal buildings – collecting 82 bins from desks and offices each shift. This allowed him to interact with his colleagues, which included many city-elected leaders and staff.

DEMARIA ANNOUNCES PARTNERSHIP WITH CLEAN RIVER PROJECT

Mayor Carlo DeMaria, alongside the Engineering Department and Conservation Commission, is pleased to announce the partnership to clean up and remove trash and debris from Everett’s stretch of the Malden River with Clean River Project (CRP).

As part of the City’s ongoing efforts, the CRP team will be patrolling the river on their 24-foot pontoon boat for any trash and debris that is along Everett’s shoreline and in the water. The items being pulled from the river range from small trash like plastic bottles and containers to larger items like tires, barrels and car parts. All of the trash is then bagged and tagged to be properly removed.

“[This work is] very important,” said Rocky Morrison, president of Clean River Project. “We’re going to pull out stuff that no one’s pulled out in a long time.”

Morrison and his team, who suit up in waders and boots each time to get into the water and patrol the shoreline on foot, will also be taking this season to learn more about the ecosystem and figuring out the best way to help the environment moving forward. After the initial clean up, they will continue to monitor and maintain the shoreline throughout the season.

The Clean River Project is a non-profit organization with a mission of cleaning and preserving the waterways. Their mission began by cleaning and preserving a 45-mile stretch of the Merrimack River and now they’ve expanded that mission to Everett’s stretch of the Malden River.

Anyone who is interested in volunteering in this clean-up effort can express their interest and learn more by emailing the City of Everett’s Conservation Agent Tom Philbin at Tom.Philbin@ci.everett.ma.us.

“I’d like to thank the Clean River Project for their partnership in helping to clean up and improve the Malden River,” said Mayor DeMaria. “This is another important step in continuing our commitment to Everett’s environment.”

In the past five years, the City has taken a heavily polluted industrial waterfront and created an oasis for all our residents and for wildlife. Removing years of debris will only help to enhance the vitality and beauty of our waterfront.

Some of the projects that have been undertaken as part of the commitment to improve Everett’s environment are Rivergreen Park, the Encore Harborwalk, the restoration of acres of wetlands, and beginning the Island End River (IER) Flood Resilience Project.

EVERETT GIRLS SOFTBALL WITH A WIN OVER LYNN CLASSICAL

EHS SOFTBALL COMES BACK TO TOP LC, 8-5; MOVES INTO FIRST PLACE

The Everett High softball team exploded for six runs in the sixth inning to erase a 5-2 deficit and earn an 8-5 victory over Greater Boston League (GBL) archrival Lynn Classical (LC) last Wednesday at Glendale Park.

The triumph, coupled with Medford's loss to Revere, allowed coach Stacy Poste-Schiavo and her crew to move into sole possession of first place in the GBL, with the Lady Rams (who were GBL co-champs with Everett last year) and Medford both falling one game back in the standings.

EHS starting pitcher Kristi Skane tossed all seven innings, allowing just five hits and four earned runs, while fanning four and walking only two.

Tide's defense shone early in the contest when Everett limited Classical to just one run in what could have been a disastrous opening inning.

After the Lady Ram lead-off batter drew a walk and stole second and third, she came home on a base hit. The next LC hitter also singled, bringing up the Classical clean-up hitter with two on and none out.

However, Everett third baseman Alexa Uga snared a line drive and the second out was made on a force play at third from shortstop Gianna Masucci to Uga. Uga then made the last out when she grabbed a grounder and stepped on the bag for the force-out.

"These defensive plays were huge," noted Poste-Schiavo. "A big inning by Classical could have changed the dynamic of the game, but holding them to only one run was a key factor in keeping us in the game."

SOMETHING TO SHOUT ABOUT: Kristi Skane lets out a roar after her triple knocked in two runs and keyed Everett's 6-run sixth inning rally that led to a come-from-behind win over Lynn Classical.

in its half of the first, but Classical's defense kept the Lady Crimson Tide off the board. Everett had the bases loaded with one out, but a runner was picked off second. Ashley Seward drew a walk to reload the bases, but Everett was unable to score. "This was frustrating because our bats have been on fire lately and we could have taken the lead easily if we had just made contact," noted Poste-Schiavo.

However, the Lady Crimson had better success in the second to take a 2-1 lead. After Uga was hit by a pitch and Bryanna Mason drew a walk, CLOSE PLAY: Lynn Classical shortstop Leilani Eth has the ball and Everett's Arabella Cvitkvisic (7) was ruled out on a close and controversial play at second base.

Emma Longmore reached on an error to load the bases once again. Although the next batter popped up, Skane helped her own cause with a base hit into the outfield that delivered Uga and Mason.

Everett threatened again in the third with runners on second and third, but a timely hit was not to be found.

Classical then erupted for four runs in the fourth, thanks to a single, double, triple, walk, and an error, to move out to a 5-2 advantage. Skane settled down for the next few innings, but her teammates were unable to cut into the Classical lead.

But in the sixth, the Lady Crimson Tide put together a game-changing -- and season-changing -- explosion that catapulted them into an 8-5 lead.

Arabella Cvitkusic drew a walk and with one out, Jules Curran was hit by a pitch. Skane once again was her own best friend, socking a triple to make it a 5-4 contest.

After Kayley Rossi drew a walk, Seward singled, knocking in Skane with the tying run. Gianna Masucci drew another walk and Uga then doubled, delivering Rossi. Bryanna Mason followed with another two-bagger, this one for two RBI, scoring Seward and Uga, for an 8-5 lead.

Skane then set down Classical in short order in the seventh. The first two outs came via 4-3 ground balls (Longmore to Mason) and, after the next batter reached on an error, she was tagged for the final out by Longmore, who had snared her third ground ball of the inning.

“Emma made some great plays here in this last inning,” lauded Poste-Schiavo. “The balls were hit hard to her and she stopped them to make the outs.

“Our defense was on fire to keep them at five runs and Kristi’s pitching was nothing but amazing,” Poste-Schiavo continued. “The Classical coach even complimented her on her performance.

“This was an amazing win and these girls played with a lot of emotion,” added the veteran coach, who is in her 25th season at the helm of the EHS softball program. “We knew we had to come back and beat them if we wanted a chance at the GBL title.

“We got more good news when we found out Revere beat Medford, whom we had lost to last week and with whom we had been tied for first place,” added Poste-Schaivo. “We need to beat the rest of the GBL teams, but we are going to do this one game at a time.”

The Lady Crimson took that first step with a 10-0 blanking of Lynn English this past Monday. Skane went the entire seven-inning route, fanning 11 while walking three and yielding just three hits to record her fifth shutout of the season.

The Everett offense took a while to get going. The Lady Crimson Tide scored a solo run in the third thanks to a base hit by Longmore and some English miscues. English threatened in the bottom of the inning, loading the bases with two outs, but a line drive back to the box was snared by Skane to end the inning.

“This could have been a big inning for English, but Kristi’s quick reflexes allowed no runs,” said Poste-Schiavo.

However, the Everett bats finally exploded in the fourth for six runs, with a two-run homer by Emilia Babcock and a two-RBI base hit by Ashley Seward keying the rally.

The Lady Crimson Tide tacked on three more markers in the sixth behind RBI doubles by Skane, Rossi, and Seward.

“The last time we played this team we beat them 18-0,” said Poste-Schiavo. “We came out late with our bats, but got the hits when we needed them. Their pitcher had a lot more control and we hit directly to their players a lot. Games like this, where we score a lot of runs in one inning, are stressful because I know this team can consistently hit. Their hitting is contagious -- when one hits they all hit. We need to make sure that we are more consistent with the at-bats. Kristi Skane and Kayley Rossi are a great battery and with the defense behind them, they were able to get another shutout.”

Poste-Schiavo and her crew, who now stand at 13-1 overall (10-1 in the GBL), host Somerville today (Wednesday) at Glendale at 4:00 and non-league foe O’Bryant on Friday at Lafayette Park. They will entertain Revere on Monday at Glendale for Senior Day and will travel to Medford next Tuesday in their GBL finale.

BOYS VOLLEYBALL TOPS PIONEER, 3-0

The Everett High boys volleyball team improved to 4-8 on the season with a 3-0 victory over Pioneer Charter Academy this past Friday afternoon at the EHS gym.

“Friday’s win was a full team effort,” said EHS head coach Michael Fineran. “We got solid defense from the back row, almost everyone got their serves in, and we limited the serving runs that have hurt us in other games.”

The Crimson Tide were in control from the outset, with sophomore setter Dantae Bauer hitting two aces for a 3-0 lead and junior middle Andrew Linhares delivering six of his seven service points in the set in a run that pushed the lead to 11-3.

Pioneer battled back to tie the set at 18, but Linhares hit an ace and sophomore Henrique Franca had three kills in the 25-21 win.

Franca was the star of set two, earning the serve with Everett leading 7-6 and aching five serves in a row. Linhares added three kills and two blocks to power the Tide to a 25-11 win.

In the third set, junior Nischal Tamang had six service points with an ace and a dig. Fellow junior Hyan Soares served three points to go with two digs and three kills. Senior co-captain Roberto Brizuela served the final point of the match, giving Everett a 25-23 victory.

“I liked how we were able to maintain our focus throughout the match,” said Fineran. “I also liked how we were able to close out the match in the third set, even though it was a much tighter contest than the second set.”

The victory followed a pair of tough losses earlier in the week to Greater Boston League rivals Chelsea and Lynn Classical.

“Our inability to put away games hurt us in those two losses,” noted Fineran.

In last Monday’s match with Chelsea, Everett cruised to a 25-15 win in the first set thanks to solid play from senior captain Dimitar Dimitrov and sophomore Jefferson Umana.

In the second set, it took the Tide a while to get anything going offensively, but they eventually broke out of it, with Franca earning three more kills and sophomore libero Steve Flores hitting two aces.

Everett battled back from a 23-21 deficit to serve for the set at 24-23.

“If we had won that point, we would have felt much better about our chances up 2-0,” said Fineran. “Instead, we missed the serve and dropped the next two points, so we had to settle for a 1-1 split.”

In the third set, Everett hit four of its first five serves out, but somehow still built a 9-6 lead. The Tide were ahead, 16-14, thanks to two kills apiece from Linhares and Franca, but two more missed serves late in the set sealed Everett’s fate.

The Crimson Tide’s serving returned for the fourth set, but ultimately Chelsea played with more energy and intensity. Everett had an 11-9 lead, but the Red Devils had an answer for every big swing from the Tide, with Chelsea eventually prevailing, 25-17, to take the match.

3-1. Last Wednesday Everett trekked to Lynn Classical.

“We knew we would have our hands full with a similarly-scrappy Lynn Classical team, and the match did not disappoint,” said Fineran.

Senior co-captain Said Soiab had three kills in the opening set and junior Kaleb Miranda had a pair of kills and blocks, but Classical took the opener 25-22.

The second set was close early on, but Everett went from being down 8-6 to 20-6 “in what felt like 30 seconds,” said Fineran.

Serves from Bauer and Soares made the final score a little more respectable, 25-14.

“We did not look good,” said the coach. “I reminded the team before the third set that previous scores and previous games don’t matter. I told them to forget about the score and start having fun.

“But what turned things around for us was not words, but the play of Jefferson Umana,” Fineran continued. “Lynn Classical would have run away with the match in the third set if not for his defense. Jefferson had four memorable digs that neutralized their attack and kept rallies going. That made Classical adjust their offense, and we were now in better position to counter-attack.”

Umana also had three kills and an ace in the set and Miranda had another pair of kills and blocks, part of his season-high of seven in both categories. Linhares had a kill and a block, Soares had five service points, and Bauer aced two of his last three serves to give Everett the win, 25-21.

The Tide carried that momentum into the fourth set, where Franca once again had a monster game, serving nine in a row to build a 15-3 lead, then tallying three kills to put the set away, 25-11.

The fifth and deciding set proved close.

“We couldn’t maintain any momentum with the pressure back on, and it felt like we were always just one step behind,” said Fineran, whose squad dropped the set, 15-12. “But I’m proud of the way we fought back.

“We sit at 4-8, which means we still have a shot at the tournament, but we have to capitalize on every opportunity we get to put a team away,” noted Fineran, whose crew travels to Somerville today (Wednesday) and to Revere on Monday before returning home to host Medford next Tuesday.

“We know what we need to do. We can’t let up now,” Fineran added.

EHS BASEBALL TEAM DEFEATS CHELSEA

The Everett High baseball team won one of its three contests this past week.

Last Monday the Tide took the measure of Greater Boston League (GBL) rival Chelsea, 16-2.

Nordelvy Santana recorded the win for Everett, throwing four innings in which he allowed two runs on two hits. Alex Velasco led the Tide offensively with three hits and three RBI. Also chipping in for Everett offensively were Isaiah Goffigan, David Saia, Nordelvy Santana,

The victory at the time was Everett’s fourth in five games and brought the Tide back to the .500 mark with a 5-5 record.

However, the Crimson Tide dropped its next two contests to GBL foes Lynn Classical and Lynn English.

In a 10-0 loss to Classical last Wednesday, Everett could not generate much in the way of offensive production. Saia led the way going 3-for-3, but other than that, only Goffigan and Gilbert were able to muster base hits.

Omar Marshall pitched three innings, giving up five earned runs in the loss.

“It was a tight ballgame heading into the fifth, but some defensive miscues did us in,” said EHS head coach Joel Levine. “When you play a team like Lynn Classical, you have to play your absolute best if you want to have a chance to beat them, but that just wasn’t in the cards for us.”

This past Monday, Everett came up on the short end of a 14-7 decision to Lynn English at Glendale Park.

Everett held a 7-4 lead heading into the sixth inning, but then the proverbial wheels fell off the bus. Velasco, Nordelvy Santana, and Alex Lara each had multi-hit games, while Marshall and Albert Santana had a hit apiece.

“The fact that we were leading in that game was a miracle. Our pitchers surrendered 21 walks over the course of the game, which quite frankly is unacceptable,” said Levine. “I would rather watch their entire lineup hit balls on top of the police station than watch us walk the ballpark. This was not a game that they won, it was a game that we lost. We need to be much better down the stretch if we want to make a run at the tournament.”

With their record now at 5-7 on the season, Levine and his crew will need to win five of their final eight contests in order to finish with the .500 record they will need to punch their ticket for a Journey to the Tourney.

The Tide are scheduled to begin that quest today (Wednesday) at GBL foe Somerville. They will entertain non-league opponent Salem Charter Academy on Friday and then will travel to GBL rival Revere on Monday before returning to Glendale to take on GBL foe Medford next Tuesday.

EHS BOYS TENNIS SENIOR DAY IS MONDAY

The Everett High boys tennis team will conduct its Senior Day festivities this Monday when the Crimson Tide host Revere.

“All seven of our seniors will be playing in the varsity match,” said EHS head coach Greg Bluestein.

The Tide came up short in its matches this past week. In a 4-1 loss to Lynn Classical, the second doubles tandem of Matthew DiDomenico and Carlos Mungia defeated their Classical counterparts, while both the Tide’s first doubles and second singles players fell just short in tie-breaker sets.

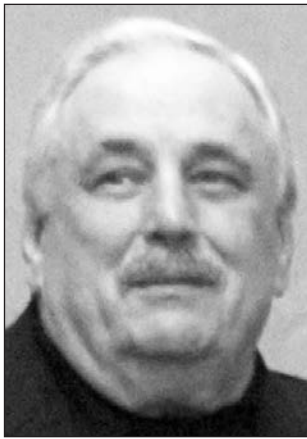

In a 4-1 loss to Lynn English this past Tuesday, sophomore first singles player Bryant Jimenez won his match. At second singles, senior co-captain Shishir Pokhrel lost his match in a tiebreaker in the third set.

Bluestein and his crew play Latin Academy today (Wednesday). After Monday’s match with Revere, they will wrap up their 2023 season Tuesday at Medford.

Cook more, use less

By Penny & Ed Cherubino

Many of us have cooked more over the past three years. We’ve found that while we were cooking more, we used less. We gravitated to meals that required fewer ingredients, made do with what we had on hand, and required less cleanup.

While we have a wide array of kitchen equipment, we use less and less of it these days. Our kitchen spring cleaning resulted in a donation box of items we hadn’t used in years. As we honed our culinary skill set, we relied less on one-trick-pony gadgets. The few things now in our stove-side utensil crock are ones we use every week.

What Do You Use?

One easy way to determine what you regularly use is to put a small piece of blue painter’s tape on each item in your kitchen crock or favorite utensil drawer. When you use it, remove the tape. A month later, look at the utensils you didn’t use and decide if they deserve prime space.

As you move some items to secondary storage, look for duplicates. Unless you collect wooden spoons, how many do you need? If you replaced one silicone spatula with a brand you prefer, why are you keeping the old one? Next, consider those single-use gadgets. If you no longer use your garlic press because you have the knife skills to pulverize garlic on a cutting board, you can pass the device on to a newer cook.

All of us will have items we keep for sentimental reasons. We have an old tray Ed’s parents used to serve his mother’s pizza. Penny uses it for her mise en place when cooking. We have some items we bought to set up our first kitchen decades ago, including a wooden spoon, a set of measuring cups and spoons, and a cast-iron skillet.

Rental Kitchen Lessons

Over the years, we’ve experienced how little we need to cook in a rental kitchen. At times we had to make do with what was offered by the hosts. Dull knives often resulted in the purchase of an addition to our extensive knife collection. Now, Penny has a small tool kit of essential items we bring when we travel by car. It includes a sharp chef’s knife, a serrated knife that can double as a bread knife, a small knife sharpener, tongs, chopsticks, a server’s corkscrew, and a sharp vegetable peeler.

Recycle Unused Equipment

Some charitable organizations accept kitchen and household items in good condition. Locally you can contact Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries, The Salvation Army, and

Here are the often-used tools that won space in our stove-side utensil crock after a recent kitchen cleanout.

Boomerangs to see what they can use. You can also offer your extras on sites like Freecycle, Next Door, Craig’s List, and “Buy Nothing Groups.”

You could offer your extra equipment to a new household. We had a significant cleanout when a friend had two young relatives setting up their first apartments. We joined her effort to stock their kitchens with extra equipment from ours. It was satisfying to help a new generation of cooks and recycle what we weren’t using.

The coming warm months are a great time to practice making meals with less. Try limiting yourself to a sharp knife and cutting board for most of your preparation. Use fewer pans, spoons, and other gadgets. This practice will improve your kitchen skills and encourage you to consider which items in your drawers and cupboards you can do without!

NEWS IN BRIEF

DEMARIA ANNOUNCES KIDS TO PARKS DAY EVENT

A Fun Day with Activities for Kids and Families at Swan Street Park

Everett, MA – Mayor Carlo DeMaria is pleased to announce the annual Kids to Parks Day event will be held on Saturday, May 20, at Swan Street Park from 11am to 1pm.

All families are invited to enjoy various activities, interactive games, inflatable attractions, characters, face painting, music and much more.

Kids To Parks Day is a nationally recognized day celebrated annually on the third Saturday of May. The goal is to get kids and families outside and off their electronic devices to utilize and enjoy their community’s recreational resources, parks and playgrounds. The City is joining in the celebration by inviting our youth to participate in this day by hosting an event at Swan Street Park for all to attend.

For more information, please visit cityofeverett.com/events/kids-to-parks-day.

Join us Monday, May 15, 2023 at 10am at the Connolly Center, located at 90 Chelsea Street for this informative session. One in four Americans over the age of 65 experience falls each year. It is time to think about how we may prevent or reduce slips and falls.

For additional information, please call 617-394-2270 to be connected to the Connolly Center.

Everett man indicted for sex trafficking

A federal grand jury returned a four-count indictment last week charging an Everett man with sex trafficking four female victims.

Trevor Jones, 45, was indicted on four counts of sex trafficking by force, fraud, or coercion. Jones was arrested on related state charges on March 23, 2023 and has remained in state custody since. He will appear in federal court in Boston at a later date.

“The allegations against Mr. Jones are incredibly serious and disturbing. As alleged, he specifically targeted victims suffering with substance use disorder, intensified their drug dependency to gain control, violently forced them to engage in sex acts for his own profit and, in some instances, used sexual violence to ensure their compliance,” said United States Attorney Rachael S. Rollins. “Sex trafficking is a very real and present threat in our Commonwealth. Every single day, Massachusetts residents are being subjected to unimaginable harm and trauma at the hands of traffickers. My office has dedicated substantial resources and created a dedicated team of prosecutors to combat this horrific conduct, hold traffickers accountable and bring justice to victims and survivors of these awful crimes.”

“The conduct we allege in this case is horrific. Trevor Jones is accused of preying on, drugging, and sexually victimizing women for his own financial gain. No human being should ever be lured into servitude, exploited, and forced to live their lives in fear where escape seems all but impossible, but that’s exactly what we believe happened here,” said Joseph R. Bonavolonta, Special Agent in Charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Boston Division. “The resiliency his victims have shown is commendable, and as a result, Jones will now face justice. Make no mistake, FBI Boston’s Child Exploitation – Human Trafficking Task Force will do everything in its power to help them get the services they need to heal.”

According to the charging documents, Jones ran a sex trafficking operation targeting victims who were suffering from substance use disorder. As part of his sex trafficking operation, Jones allegedly provided his victims with controlled substances, including heroin, fentanyl and cocaine to intensify their drug dependence and gain their compliance, while prohibiting the victims from obtaining controlled substances from other sources. He also routinely confiscated their identifications and other personal items to impede their ability to leave. Jones required victims to earn a daily quota and provide him with all the proceeds from their commercial sex acts. Jones allegedly enforced his requirements by punishing victims with acts of violence, threats of violence and withholding controlled substance from drug-dependent victims.

The charge of sex trafficking by force, fraud, or coercion provides for a mandatory minimum sentence of 15 years and up to life in prison, at least five years of supervised release and a fine of up to $250,000. Sentences are imposed by a federal district court judge based upon the U.S. Sentencing Guidelines and statutes which govern the determination of a sentence in a criminal case.

U.S. Attorney Rollins; FBI SAC Bonavolonta; John E. Mawn, Jr., Interim Colonel of the Massachusetts State Police; and Essex County District Attorney Paul F. Tucker made the announcement. Valuable assistance was provided by the Revere and Boston Police Departments. Assistant U.S. Attorney Elizabeth Riley, Chief of Rollins’s Civil Rights and Human Trafficking Unit is prosecuting the case along with Essex County Assistant District Attorneys Jessica Stranick and Marina Moriarty, who are serving as Special Assistant United States Attorneys.

The details contained in the charging documents are allegations. The defendant is presumed innocent unless and until proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt in a court of law.

ter would be addressed more expeditiously if it were referred directly to Police Sgt. Joe Gaff and Police Chief Steven Mazzie “to take immediate action since it is a public safety issue.”

Matewsky noted that the Traffic Commission meets once a month, so “a referral to Sgt. Gaff and Chief Mazzie would get better results.”

Nguyen wasted no time in heeding Matewsky’s suggestion and immediately referred the matter to the sergeant and the police chief.

The Council unanimously approved Nguyen’s motion.
