Everett Little League captures District 12 Tournament title

By Cary Shuman

The Everett Little League All-Star 12-year-old team stormed out of the loser's bracket, but there was one giant hurdle remaining in the District 12 championship game: undefeated Melrose.

Propelled by the excellent pitching of starting right-hander Nick Young and southpaw reliever Caden Foley, Everett edged Melrose, 2-1, at the Dorchester Little League field to claim the title.

Young struck out 11

batters and yielded only two hits in a superb performance.

"I've known Nick since he was six years old, and I've seen him pitch a lot of games, but this was the best game he's ever pitched," said Everett coach Brian Savi. "This was a huge upset against a powerful Melrose team."

Coach Savi also lauded Foley for his masterful effort in relief. "Caden pitched in high-profile situations for the first time, and he had nerves of steel. He was amazing. He gave us three big outs against Melrose and struck out the batter who had hit a home run earlier in the game. He delivered six straight outs against Charlestown (in a 4-2 victory). Luke Wood was the winning pitcher against Charlestown.

In the thriller against Melrose, Everett scored their two runs in the fourth inning on a passed ball, with Young (walk) racing home on the play and Nick Savi (single) also scoring on an errant throw back to

Senator Sal DiDomenico joined his colleagues, as well as early education and care advocates for a State House rally in support of the Common Start bill. "From my first day in the Senate I have been pushing for expanded access to early education and increasing staff salaries to ensure the educators can earn a good living," said Senator DiDomenico. "This critical legislation will ensure every child and family in Massachusetts can access affordable, high-quality, early education and childcare and deliver significantly better pay and benefits for early educators. We must pass this bill and keep our state a livable and welcoming home for families of all incomes."

The Common Start bills in the Senate and the House, respectively, are S.301 and H.489, an act providing affordable and accessible high-quality early education and care to promote child development and well-being and support the economy.

Deadline for nomination papers is Friday at 5 p.m.

Staff Report

Candidates for the City Council and School Committee have until Friday, July 21 at 5 p.m. to submit their nomination papers for the 2023 municipal election.

The big question as the deadline approaches is whether there will be preliminary elections in the Councillor-at-Large and At-Large School Committee races.

Currently there are nine candidates that have had their nomination papers certified in the Councillor-at-Large race. If at least two of the remaining three candidates submit their nomination papers by Friday and their papers are certified, there would be a preliminary election in September.

In the At-Large School Committee race, four candidates have had their nomination papers certified.

Three of the four remaining candidates would have to be certified for a preliminary election to be held in September.

Election Director Danielle Pietrantonio confirmed that there will be preliminary elections in the Ward 4 City Council race and the Ward 6 School Committee race.

In the Ward 4 Council race, incumbent Jimmy Tri Le and candidates Kimberly Kit Bridge and Holly Garcia will be seeking to finish in the top-two spots in the preliminary election and earn a spot in the final election in November.

In the Ward 6 School Committee race, Daniel Skerritt, Pattian Scalesse, and Thomas Abruzzese have had their nomination papers certified, while a fourth candidate, Joseph A. D'Onofrio is close to having his nomination papers certified.

Sand Sculpting Festival returns to Revere Beach

By Adam Swift

Over the course of nearly two decades, the Revere Beach International Sand Sculpting Festival has emerged as one of the most popular events in the state, bringing renowned international artists and hundreds of thousands of tourists from around the globe to America's first public beach.

This year, the 19th annual festival returns from Friday, July 28 to Sunday, July 30 with a suitably big theme – Kong, celebrating the 90th anniversary of the giant ape.

The free event is hosted by the Revere Beach Partnership, a non-profit organization, and will feature vendors, food trucks, and a fireworks extravaganza on Saturday night in addition to the highly competitive sand sculpture competition.

"This event is one of many that makes me so proud to represent the City of Revere," said Representative Jessica Giannino (D-Revere). "The International Sand Sculpting Festival brings in hundreds of thousands of people who will have the opportunity to explore new restaurants, local vendors and a new hotel. Visitors from Massachusetts and beyond get to experience all that Revere has to offer."

"I am so happy that this wonderful event on America's first public beach continues to gain more momentum with each passing year and it is my hope that visitors will be back and bring their friends and family to enjoy all that Revere and our beach has to offer."

State Representative Jeff Turco, who is also an advisor on the board of the Revere Beach Partnership, said the event is a showpiece for Revere and the region.

"It's either the third or the fourth largest event in Massachusetts on an annual basis; over a million people will come to Revere Beach during the course of the weekend and the days after to see the sculptures," said Turco. "Clearly, it has become a marquee event in the country, the fact that so many people from around the country come to see the sculptures, and the fact that the partnership is able to get international sand sculptors to come in is a testament to the organizers of the event and the effort they put into it."

The economic benefit of the event extends to local businesses, restaurants, and hotels, said Turco.

Among the sculptors expected to participate this year are Melineige Beauregard and Chris Guinto from Hawaii, Morgan Rudluff from California, Joris Kivist from the Netherlands, and Slavian Borecki from Poland.

Closer to home, Deborah Barret-Cutulle will be taking to the beach this year. Barret-Cutulle is a graduate of the Art Institute of Boston, and is a full-time artist working as an illustrator, muralist, and sand sculptor. Locals may have seen the 8' x 96'

YES, OUR DEMOCRACY IS ON THE EDGE

The national political scene Is probably the last thing that any of us want to be thinking about in the middle of July, but some recent events are making it clear that the attack on the Capitol on January 6 was just the opening round of what promises to be an unprecedented assault on our democracy and Constitution not seen since the Confederates fired on Ft. Sumter in 1861.

For example, former vice-president Mike Pence has been greeted with a chorus of boos at recent gatherings of conservative groups, particularly when he told the crowd that he lacked the authority to overturn the Electoral College results of the 2020 Presidential election.

Similarly, former Arkansas governor Asa Hutchinson, who has been a vocal critic of former President Trump for the past few years, was booed repeatedly at a recent convention of young conservatives.

What these and other incidents demonstrate is that there is a solid percentage of our fellow Americans who do not believe in the basic principles of our democracy and who will use any means necessary to achieve their goals.

These folks claim to be “patriotic Americans,” but being a patriotic American does not merely mean waving the flag -- it means respecting our Constitution and our laws -- and it is obvious to anyone paying attention that many of these folks are gearing up for what may be a violent uprising in 2024 that will strain our nation’s democracy to a degree not seen since 1861.

HERE’S SOME CONSOLATION FOR SOX FANS

With the Major League Baseball season resuming after the All-Star break, the Red Sox appear destined to relegation to the realm of mediocrity. Sure, they’re above .500, but our Sox don’t appear to have either the pitching or the hitting to make a run to the playoffs.

However, as we looked briefly at the standings on Monday, there was one ray of brightness -- the Yankees were in last place in the American League East with us!

There is a term for what we were feeling -- schadenfreude -- the concept that one derives happiness only from the misfortunes of others.

To be sure, we’re disappointed that the Sox once again will be on the outside looking in.

But if the Yankees also are out of the playoff picture -- well, that’s a cause for joy in and of itself.

MORE BIZARRO COMMENTS BY RFK JR.

Well, as if right on cue, two days after our editorial last week (“RFK Jr. is a disgrace to his family name”) about the delusional “campaign” for President by Robert F. Kennedy Jr., he made this disturbing comment at a luncheon in New York City, which was reported by the New York Post:

“There is an argument that it (COVID 19) is ethnically targeted. COVID-19 attacks certain races disproportionately. COVID-19 is targeted to attack Caucasians and black people. The people who are most immune are Ashkenazi Jews and Chinese.”

As the Anti-Defamation League and others have pointed out, Kennedy’s comments are not merely ludicrous, but they encourage those who might believe in his bonkers conspiracy theories to engage in dangerous racist and anti-semitic behavior.

It is obvious that Kennedy is on an ego trip -- his “campaign” for president is an old-man’s version (he’s 69) of a mid-life crisis. Hopefully, he’ll continue to make even more nutty pronouncements so that soon enough he’ll go back to where he came from and we won’t have to put up with him.

New DPH report reveals rates of severe maternal morbidity

The prevalence of severe maternal morbidity nearly doubled in Massachusetts from 2011 to 2020, with Black non-Hispanic birthing people consistently experiencing the highest rates of labor and delivery complications among all races and ethnicities, according to a first-of-its-kind report by the Massachusetts Department of Public Health (DPH).

Severe maternal morbidity (SMM) involves unexpected complications of labor and delivery that result in significant consequences to the birthing person’s health. Such complications include life-threatening conditions (such as heart attacks, acute kidney failure, eclampsia, and sepsis), as well as situations that require the need for life-saving procedures (such as the removal of the uterus) to manage serious conditions.

“Massachusetts has the best health care system in the country, but this report shows that there is much more work that we need to do to address racial and gender inequities in health care. It is essential that everyone has access to comprehensive, high-quality and inclusive maternal health care,” said Governor Maura Healey. “We can and must do better for mothers, for kids and for families – and our administration is committed to doing just that.”

“We can’t address what we’re not measuring, and this report shines a painful light on what we’ve known to be true for a while – women of color are not receiving the high-quality maternal health care that they need and deserve,” said Lieutenant Governor Kim Driscoll. “We are working across our administration and with partners in government and health care to reduce racial disparities in health care.”

The new report retrospectively examined 678,382 deliveries, including both live births and fetal deaths, among 483,699 Massachusetts residents from 2011 to 2020. During this 10-year period, Black non-Hispanic birthing people consistently demonstrated the highest SMM rates, with inequities increasing an average of 10.1 percent each year. In 2011, the gap between SMM rates for Black non-Hispanic and white non-Hispanic birthing people was two-fold. By 2020, the SMM rate for Black non-Hispanic birthing people was 2.5 times higher than that of white non-Hispanic birthing people, indicating a 25 percent increase in the gap over that time.

The report found that rates of SMM increased significantly for all birthing people, nearly doubling from 52.3 per 10,000 deliveries in 2011 to 100.4 per 10,000 deliveries in 2020, with an average annual increase of 8.9 percent. SMM rates increased by 7.8 percent per year on average for white non-Hispanic, 8.2 percent for Hispanic, and 10.5 percent for Asian/Pacific Islander non-Hispanic birthing people.

The report also revealed significant inequities experienced by birthing people with disabilities – particularly for those with intellectual, vision, and mobility-related disabilities. For every 10,000 deliveries, there were 131.6 deliveries with SMM among people with intellectual disabilities; 108.4 among people with a vision disability; and 94.6 among people with a mobility disability, rates that were significantly higher than those for people without such disabilities.

“When we look at maternal health outcomes through a lens of race and ethnicity, we see a different picture of our health care system,” said Secretary of Health and Human Services Kate Walsh. “Birthing people, particularly women of color, face devastating levels of risk. We have a lot of work to do to improve outcomes, and this report is a call to action that tells us where we need to focus our efforts to address the root causes of maternal health complications and close the racial gap.”

“This report provides a comprehensive and sobering look at the worsening problem of inequities in severe maternal morbidity,” said Department of Public Health Commissioner Robert Goldstein, MD, PhD. “DPH will continue to share these data transparently as we work to urgently address the structural and systemic barriers in our health care and public health infrastructure that contribute to these troubling outcomes.”

“The fact that these rates and the gaps have continued to worsen over time indicates that Black non-Hispanic birthing people have not benefited from improved medical knowledge and care,” said Hafsatou Diop, MD, MPH, Director of the Division of Maternal and Child Health Research and Analysis at DPH. “It has been long recognized that racism – not race – is the risk factor, as it leads to discriminatory beliefs and behaviors toward Black non-Hispanic birthing people.”

Identifying innovative ways to address racial inequities in SMM is a priority for DPH. In 2022, the department established a multi-disciplinary Maternal Health Task Force to create and implement a maternal health strategic plan. DPH also is addressing critical gaps in direct maternal and child clinical care using CDC’s Levels of Care Assessment Tool to establish the Levels of Maternal Care in MA. The goal is for pregnant people at high risk to receive care in facilities that are prepared to provide the required level of specialized care, thereby reducing maternal morbidity and mortality in the state.

In addition, DPH is implementing targeted interventions for medically underserved communities, with the goal of improving outcomes for those most impacted by SMM. This includes remote blood pressure (BP) monitoring programs, which are currently being piloted at Baystate Medical Center, Brigham and Women’s Hospital and Boston Medical Center to improve awareness of obstetric warning signs for patients with hypertensive disorders, including preeclampsia/eclampsia. Hypertensive disorders are a leading cause of severe maternal morbidity and postpartum readmission. DPH is also working with MassHealth to explore coverage options for remote BP monitoring programs.

Overall, the data in the report underscore the need for enhanced monitoring and support for all birthing people, with specific attention directed toward those groups at greater risk. In addition, the report highlights the importance of collecting and using data to identify and understand inequities and to inform approaches to address serious public health problems.

The report is the state’s first to specifically focus on maternal and child health using DPH’s Public Health Data Warehouse, which was created by legislative statute in 2017.

“To improve peripartum health outcomes,” the report concludes, “state policy efforts must continue to target structural racism and ableism, as well as other socioeconomic and community drivers of adverse maternal outcomes, including access to and quality of primary and prenatal care.”

Everett man charged with two separate robberies

An Everett man is facing charges for robbing a customer at Eastern Bank, and a TD bank the next day, District Attorney Kevin Hayden announced.

Jonathan Pagan, 32, was charged July 10 in BMC Central with conspiracy and unarmed robbery for the July 6 offense and ordered held on $7,500. Pagan was charged with armed robbery (firearm) for the July 7 offense and ordered held on $2,500. Judge James Coffey ordered Pagan to stay away from both bank locations.

On July 6 around 5:00 a.m., police responded to an unarmed robbery at Eastern Bank at 63 Franklin Street. The victim reported he was punched in the eye and robbed of $600. Police reviewed surveillance footage, observed the victim exit the ATM vestibule, and was immediately approached by two individuals, later identified as Pagan and Leroy Isuma. The victim stepped away and ran out into the street. Pagan and Isuma ran after the victim and Pagan is seen grabbing the victim and striking him, then pulling away with a yanking motion. Investigators were able to obtain screen shots of both Pagan and Isuma’s faces and clothing from the footage.

On July 7 around 8:33 a.m., police responded to a panic alarm at TD bank at 24 Winter Street. A bank teller reported an unknown male, later identified as Pagan, approached the teller station and said, “I have a gun.” The teller provided Pagan with bait money and $1,000 and activated the panic alarm. The teller described Pagan as a white or Hispanic male, about 5’8,” clean shaven, wearing a green shirt with black shorts and black shoes. Pagan fled toward Tremont Street. Officers located the GPS tracker from the bait money in the area of 2 Winter Place and observed a discarded money band inside the Downtown Crossing MBTA station. Officers followed Pagan to the Mass Ave. MBTA station and observed him speaking incoherently towards other officers at the station. Officers observed U.S. currency sticking out of Pagan’s shorts. A total of $875 was recovered but no firearm was located.

Pagan has two open cases for knowingly receiving stolen property and assault with a dangerous weapon.

Isuma will be charged for his role in the July 6 robbery.

“I applaud the teller’s quick thinking in this frightening situation. This individual not only chose to rob a member of society and a bank on two separate occasions but he chose to do so with violence and force. This is an example of collaborative and diligent police work and this offender will be held accountable,” Hayden said.

All charged individuals are presumed innocent until and unless proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

Recent rainfall lifts MA out of drought

Energy and Environmental Affairs (EEA) Secretary Rebecca Tepper today declared drought conditions return to normal following above-normal rainfall for the month of June. All seven regions are at a Level 0-Normal Conditions, including the Western and Cape Cod Regions, which were previously declared at a Level-1 Mild Drought. The declarations are the result of a recommendation issued from a recent meeting of the Drought Management Task Force, comprised of state and federal officials and other entities.

“After a week of devastating floods in Western Massachusetts, it should not come as a surprise that the drought has lifted,” said EEA Secretary Rebecca Tepper. “In recent months, we’ve seen droughts, flooding, and wildfire smoke across our region. The climate crisis is very much here. The Healey-Driscoll Administration is focused on addressing these impacts on all fronts – from disaster response to water conservation efforts, to a swift transition to clean energy. We continue to monitor water levels closely as weather becomes more extreme.”

The month of June and the beginning of July have brought above-normal rainfall and near to below-normal temperatures across the state. State officials expect above-average precipitation and near to slightly above-average temperatures for the rest of July. Normal Conditions, as outlined in the Massachusetts Drought Management Plan, recommends that overall water efficiency practices and preparedness actions such as water conservation and emergency planning ef-orts continue at the local level and that state and local agencies work to review, assess, and improve responses and actions implemented during the drought.

With the declaration of Normal Conditions, the Drought Management Task Force will not meet again until a region in the state is experiencing drought conditions. However, state agencies will continue to monitor and assess conditions across Massachusetts. For further information on water conservation and what residents and communities can do, please visit EEA’s Drought page and water conservation page.

FRESH AND LOCAL

Salads for supper

By Penny & Ed Cherubino

We enjoy salads for supper all year round but much more often when the summer heat makes hot meals less desirable. That doesn't mean we skimp on protein or survive on bowls of greens. Many of our favorite salads have added protein, and some contain a few herbs instead of greens.

Remember Chef's Salads?

Once, many restaurant menus had an item called a "Chef's Salad." The standard had lettuce, cucumbers, tomatoes, avocados, hard-boiled eggs, cheese, and meat. These ingredients will make a good salad. However, we use these as categories and call it a "Supper Salad." Often we make one to use up the bits and pieces in our refrigerator.

We also use the best of each vegetable available from the summer farmers' markets instead of the tasteless tomatoes, thick-skinned cucumbers, and high-fat meat and cheese that were once used. That change alone improves our meals' appearance, flavor, and nutritional value.

Choose a more flavorful cheese like feta, parmesan, or blue cheese, and use less per portion. Replace the meat with a combination of a legume or bean and grain, and you have your protein with less fat.

Prep Your Pantry for Supper Salads

We keep a few favorite items on hand to enhance salads. Think about what you love in salads and keep those items ready. Today we can pick up many of these items in a supermarket. We stock cans and packets of chickpeas, beans, lentils, mixed grains, flavored tuna, and olives.

We add a big flavor hit to our salads with capers, pickled onions, pickled ginger, and charcuterie, like cured chorizo. For texture and crunch, we might top a salad with fried shallots, croutons, nuts, or seeds.

For dressings, we keep a selection of oils and vinegar on hand. Our choice of vinegar may be decided by the cultural background of a particular salad or ingredient. We'll use sherry vinegar for a salad inspired by gazpacho and rice vinegar for a Vietnamese Bun Thit Nuong.

Favorite Salads

That Vietnamese Bun Thit Nuong is one of our favorite salads. It combines cold rice vermicelli, grated carrots, napa cabbage, and bean sprouts, topped with grilled meat, fresh Thai basil, and mint. It's dressed with an oil-free nuoc cham sauce.

From Thailand, we enjoy a larb salad. This is a spicy hand-chopped meat salad seasoned with fish sauce, chili flakes, and lime juice. Traditionally it is made with pork and served with sticky rice, but we love a chicken version served with lettuce

Once upon a time, this would have been called a "Chef's Salad." We call it a "Supper Salad" and make one often to use up the bits and pieces in our refrigerator.

Ed loves a Salad Niçoise especially when it's made with fresh seared tuna. Penny prefers to have hers with a good tuna in olive oil. One of the great things about salads is that they are easy to adapt to food preferences.

Our version of Middle Eastern tabouli has chickpeas added. With the bulgar wheat included in the basic recipe, this makes for a complete protein. You can use a classic recipe like French grated carrot salad as a base and begin to add ingredients that will make it a meal.

Prepare Portions

One final thought on salads is to think about what can be made ahead and portioned out ready to dress when someone is ready to eat. So many times, one or more members of a household needs a meal at a different time. A salad that is prepped but not dressed can be a perfect answer to this scheduling dilemma.

Call for walkers: Register for the 35th Annual Boston Marathon Jimmy Fund Walk

Registration is now open for the 2023 Boston Marathon® Jimmy Fund Walk presented by Hyundai. Scheduled for Sunday, October 1, funds raised from the Walk support all forms of adult and pediatric patient care and cancer research at one of the nation's premier cancer centers, Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

The Details:

The Jimmy Fund Walk is the only organized walk permitted on the famed Boston Marathon® course, and participants have the flexibility to choose from four distance options:

- 5K walk (from Dana-Farber Cancer Institute's Longwood Medical Campus)
- 10K walk (from Newton)

- Half Marathon walk (from Wellesley)
- Marathon Walk (from Hopkinton)

Whatever route walkers choose, participants will be treated to 10 refueling stations as well as poster-sized photographs of patients – Jimmy Fund Walk Heroes – displayed at each mile and half-mile marker as inspiration.

All four routes of the Jimmy Fund Walk will culminate at the Jimmy Fund Walk Finish Line Powered by Schneider Electric. Due to construction in Copley Square, the Jimmy Fund Walk Finish Line location has been moved to the Fenway neighborhood for 2023. Walkers should know that distances may be slightly shorter as we finish the walk in front of Fenway Park. The finish line will include a celebration complete with food, music, and a speaking program.

If walkers wish to participate a bit closer to home, the Jimmy Fund Walk has flexible opportunities. Participants can also join the event virtually by "walking their way" from wherever they are most comfortable—in their neighborhood, on a favorite hiking trail, or on a treadmill at home. Virtual programming and supporting materials will be available.

The 2023 Walk will be held during the Jimmy Fund's 75th anniversary year and will aim to raise $9 million in the effort to prevent, treat, and defy cancer.

The Jimmy Fund Walk has raised more than $167 million for Dana-Farber Cancer in its 34-year history, raising a record-breaking more than $8.8 million in 2022. Funds raised from the Walk support all forms of adult and pediatric patient care and cancer research at Dana-Farber Cancer Institute. The Boston Athletic Association has supported the Jimmy Fund Walk since 1989, and Hyundai has been the presenting sponsor for more than 20 years.

Register as an individual walker, team member, or start a team! Take advantage of this unique opportunity and lead a group of your family, friends, or colleagues to the finish line. The Jimmy Fund can help you start a team, grow your fundraising, and defy cancer, together.

To register for the Walk (#JimmyFundWalk) or to support a walker, visit www.JimmyFundWalk.org or call (866) 531-9255. Registrants can enter the promo code NEWS for $5 off the registration fee. All registered walkers will receive a bib, medal, and a Jimmy Fund Walk T-shirt.

The Jimmy Fund, celebrating its 75th anniversary in 2023, is comprised of community-based fundraising events and other programs that, solely and directly, benefit Dana-Farber Cancer Institute's lifesaving mission to provide compassionate patient care and groundbreaking cancer research for children and adults. The Jimmy Fund is an official charity of the Boston Red Sox, the Massachusetts Chiefs of Police Association, the Pan-Mass Challenge, and the Variety Children's Charity of New England. Since 1948, the generosity of millions of people has helped the Jimmy Fund save countless lives and reduce the burden of cancer for patients and families worldwide. DIDOMENICO ADVOCATES FOR HIS UNIVERSAL SCHOOL MEALS LEGISLATION

Senator Sal DiDomenico testified at an Education Committee Hearing this week in support of his Universal School Meals bill, S261 An Act relative to universal school meals. Senator DiDomenico has spent years advocating for this commonsense legislation as Vice Chair of the Education Committee and is using his new role as Co-Chair of the Food System Caucus to advance this priority. The Caucus recently endorsed several pieces of legislation, including Senator DiDomenico's Universal School Meals bill. DiDomenico will continue his work to get his proposal passed through the legislature and signed by the Governor.

Senator Sal DiDomenico, Vice Chair of the Education Committee and Co-Chair of the Food System Caucus, remarked to the Committee, "We don't means test anything else in our schools, textbooks, visits to nurses, pens, pencils, or any kind of supplies. The most important thing we can do, feeding kids, we charge for that. It is past time we pass my universal school meals legislation and guarantee that no student goes hungry in a Massachusetts school ever again."

This legislation, sponsored by Senator Sal Di-

Domenico and Representative Andy Vargas, would provide free breakfast and lunch to every child in a Massachusetts K-12 school.

The Food System Caucus is comprised of a bipartisan group of 158 legislators from every corner of the Commonwealth that works to ensure that our food producers and consumers have a seat at the table and advance legislation that will give them the support they need and deserve. This group will now be advocating in support of their handful of endorsed bills, including Universal School Meals.

Senator DiDomenico testifies at the Education Committee Hearing.
